DeLisle Urges Purchase Of San Rafael Hospital

County Auditor Sees Saving Of Expenses

Purchase by Marin County of San Rafael General Hospital to serve as a county hospital was proposed today by Auditor-Controller Leon A. deLisle.

DeLisle said he has given a letter to all members of the board of supervisors advocating the purchase as a solution to the county hospital dilemma. The supervisors are to inspect the condemned county hospital in Lucas Valley tomorrow morning.

DeLisle cited these alleged advantages of the purchase:

He estimated cost at about $350,000 as against more than $800,000 interest which would have been required over 20 years for bond issue to build a new Lucas Valley Hospital. It would eliminate need for "makeshift repairs" of the present structure estimated at $250,000.

It would promote the present movement to provide more Marin County private rest homes, creating more taxable property and "in a sense as valuable to the taxpayer as light industry."

SUGGESTED BEFORE

DeLisle said he first suggested purchase of San Rafael General Hospital for medical indigent use several years ago. Since then, the institution has passed from private ownership to that of a non-profit corporation and is now tax exempt.

Care of ambulatory patients would remain a separate problem to be solved by the supervisors, said deLisle. But he felt they might either be placed in rest homes or remain in the present "old wing."

He pointed out that kitchen facilities must be maintained at the farm in any event until the juvenile department has its own facilities.

INDICATED PRICE

DeLisle said that San Rafael General, at Mission and Nye Streets in San Rafael, has an indicated sale price of $355,556 and is appraised by the county assessor at $299,400. The first figure was taken from trust deed and deLisle noted that "some profits have been plowed back into improvements."

If taken by condemnation or direct negotiations, said de Lisle, the cost to the county would be a trust deed balance of about $350,000 plus accounts payable and minus cash on hand and recoverable from accounts receivable.

Increase of beds in Marin General and opening of Novato Hospital, plus plans for another non-profit hospital, should prevent shortage by removal of San Rafael's 65 beds from the commercial field, de Lisle said.

ANDERSEN COMMENTS

Dan E. Andersen, San Rafael city manager and president of the San Rafael General Hospital Foundation, which operates the non-profit hospital, said deLisle's suggestion deserves "careful consideration by all concerned."

Said Andersen:

"It's a question of which would be the greater public service: converting it to a county hospital or continuing

Liner In Port, But Demands Stall Captives' Release

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI)—The hijacked liner Santa Maria sailed into Recife harbor today, but landing of the 620 captive passengers was delayed for hours while rebel leader Henrique Galvao demanded new guarantees from Brazil.

Galvao dropped anchor just inside the harbor and within the three-mile limit and refused to budge further with the 20,906-ton liner although President Janio Quadras granted political asylum to the rebel band.

His arrival touched off rival demonstrations in the streets of Recife by Brazilians who back the Portuguese government of Premier Antonio de Oliveiro Salazar and those backing Galvao in his move to overthrow the Salazar government.

The situation became so touchy that Brazilian minister of justice, Pedroso Horta, announced he was boarding the Santa Maria for a shipboard conference with Galvao. Galvao was believed demanding that Brazil refuse to seize the ship.

Quadros met during the day with his air, navy and war ministers in Brasilia but was unable to solve the crisis immediately.

A stream of messages passed back and forth between Galvao and officials ashore as the big ship, occasionaly pouring smoke from its stack, swung about with the tide. Port captain Helio Leite was one of the first to go aboard.

He returned with a message for Adm. Dias Fernandes, commander of the third naval district here, detailing his ship's dwindling supplies of food, fuel and water and setting forth Galvao's latest conditions to be

Pro-Kennedy Pair Named To Rules Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration forces formally took command of the House Rules Committee today with assignment of a Southern moderate and a Northern liberal to the two new Democratic seats created yesterday.

Assigned to the committee were Reps. Carl Elliott, 47, of Jasper, Ala., who would support President John F. Kennedy on most proposals except civil rights; and B. F. Sisk, 50, Fresno, a leading member of the House's Democratic liberal bloc.

The committee was enlarged yesterday in a bitter House battle. (See story on page 2.)

Oregon Nabs Two Marin Jail Escapees

Two Marin County Jail trusties who fled in a stolen car with $64 in county funds last Sunday have been caught in Springfield, Ore., Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos reported today.

Escapees William S. Agnew, 25, and Boyd J. Griffith, 23, will be brought back to Marin by Inspector Carl Sears and Deputy Sheriff Robert Bertrand. The two officers will leave for Oregon tomorrow morning and expect to be back Friday night.

Agnew and Griffith face two charges: Escape from county jail and theft of a 1957 car owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lee Hancock of 7 Merrydale Road, San Rafael.

$2,500 BAIL

Bail has been set at $5,250 each.

Chief of Police Floyd L. Clower of Springfield reported today that the escapees had abandoned Hancock's car at Klamath Falls.

Simultaneously with the disclosure that the pair had been captured, Sheriff Mountanos announced these stricter rules in the trusty system:

Trusties will be allowed outside for chores in the parking lot and courthouse, only during weekdays, Monday through Friday.

Washing of cars by trusties during weekends is discontinued. The only trusties who will be allowed outside on Saturday and Sunday will be those who work on the county pistol range and at the Marin County Hospital and Farm.

Agnew and Griffith, who were in jail for bad checks, now face up to one year in county jail or six months to five years in prison for escape.

'HOLD' BY FBI

The Federal Bureau of Investigation also placed a "hold" on the pair for transporting a stolen car across state lines.

Agnew would have been eligible for release from the county jail the day after his escape, although he may not have known his release was so close, the sheriff said. Griffith would have been eligible for release on May 27.

Griffith was married in a special jail ceremony last Oct. 11. His wife is in Oregon.

HAM FINDS SPACE FOR AN APPLE

Ham the space chimp, who soared 115 miles up yesterday aboard a Redstone rocket and then came back to earth, reaches for an apple, his first food after his space ride. He was plucked from the sea yesterday, and today was returned to the United States. He has been pronounced "healthy and happy." See story on page 2. (AP Wirephoto)

Pushbutton Missile Scores Big Success During First Testing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Minuteman missile, America's hope for a pushbutton war weapon, scored an amazing success on its first test flight today.

A jubilant Air Force reported 20 minutes after the 11 a.m. launching that all three stages had fired successfully and that the rocket had landed on target in the south Atlantic Ocean, more than 4,000 miles away.

The Air Force had gone all out on the initial firing of this "second generation" intercontinental range missile, which will prowl the countryside on hard-to-find railroad trains, or stand poised in underground holes, ready for firing on instant notice.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, called the success "one of the most significant steps this nation has ever taken toward gaining intercontinental missile supremacy in the critical years just ahead."

Never before had so many rocket components been tested on a first launching here. All three solid fuel stages, the guidance system and nose cone were tested today. The distance covered was just 2,000 miles short of the intended operational range of 6,300 miles.

This was the first time that all stages of a military rocket were manufactured by different contractors. Thiokol made the first stage, Aerojet the second and Hercules the third. Boeing Aircraft Co., is assembly and test manager. (A component of the Missileman is manufactured by a San Rafael firm. See story on pictures on page 7.)

The Air Force plans to have the Minuteman ready for combat by mid-1962.

Once the missile is perfected, the Air Force plans the fastest buildup in missile history with at least 600 Minutemen to be deployed by 1964. About 450 of these will be spread across the western United States in underground "silos" designed to survive a near miss by a nuclear bomb. The remainder will be on special railroad trains.

Defense planners are talking of eventually having 2,000 Minutemen on station.

FINAL VERSION

Highway Widening Report Turned In

Engineer Daniel Coleman sent his final report on the proposed widening of Highway 101 to the San Rafael City Council today. It contains only two variations from the tentative plan submitted on Jan. 18.

The council is expected to consider the report at its regular meeting 8 p.m. Monday in the city hall and then set a date for public hearing. Coleman said large scale maps of the recommended freeway route are available to the council although they were not included in the seven page report.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen said the maps will probably be put on display in the city hall next week.

The two additions to Coleman's tentative plan in which he recommended adoption of the State Division of Highways plan for adding four freeway lanes on the west side of Highway 101, include:

1. Connecting Lincoln Avenue with Los Ranchitos Road at Puerto Suello Hill so that it can become an through intracity thoroughfare.

2. Constructing of a new street connecting West Francisco Boulevard with DuBois Street which should be started as soon as possible to help correct traffic problem at the south entrance to the city.

The master street plan for San Rafael is still being prepared by Coleman's office. Coleman was hired by the city four months ago at $8.50 an hour with a total cost for both plans not to exceed $15,000.

Kennedy Lifts Curbs On Dependents

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy announced today that restrictions imposed by the Eisenhower administration on the number of military dependents are being lifted.

He told his second White House news conference that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara had found ways to make an equivalent savings in dollars.

The president said top military leaders were concerned with the impact on morale.

5-DAY OUTLOOK SAYS RAIN TO CONTINUE

Skies were gray and light rains continued to dampen Marin today.

The Weather Bureau forecast occasional rain through tomorrow, and continued generally mild temperatures.

The five-day forecast called for occasional rain over most of Northern California. Temperatures were expected to be above normal.

Less than a quarter of an inch of rain fell in most areas of the county in the 24-hour period to 8 a.m. San Anselmo and Fairfax had .15 of an inch; Larkspur .17 (to 7 a.m.); Belvedere, .05; Mill Valley, .25.

San Rafael had .11 of an inch up to noon today.

The North Marin Water District reported Stafford Lake level had risen another foot since yesterday.

Seven Women Die In Fire In Nursing Home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seven elderly women were burned to death today when fire broke out in a stairway of a nursing home here and trapped them on the top floor.

Fire Marshal Richard C. O'Connor said the women were patients at the Mount Vernon Nursing Home, located in northwest Washington near some of the capital's biggest hotels.

Twenty-four other patients on the first three floors were rescued.

Fire officials first thought that all the patients had been taken from the four-story brick building, one of a row of similar structures. They found the charred bodies when they finally were able to reach the fourth floor.

Fireman fought the five-alarm blaze in overcast frigid weather.

Animal's Flight Puts Man Closer To Space Travel

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The successful rocket flight of a chimpanzee into space is considered today a sign that man too can enter space safely and return.

The animal, named Ham, was plucked yesterday from the Atlantic Ocean after a 115-mile-high ride into outer space. He was due back this afternoon at this rocket base where he was lofted in a Redstone rocket.

Ham's trip carried several main significances:

1. It indicates manned space flight is feasible. An American astronaut is scheduled this spring to duplicate Ham's daring flight.

2. A very slight mis-firing in the rocket system hurling out Ham's capsule may well require further tests with or without a chimp aboard, before a man goes up. But this also produced valuable dividends.

3. Ham himself is reported in excellent shape.

Plucked from the sea by a helicopter from the USS Donner, he shook hands with the veterinarian greeting him when his one-ton space capsule was unlocked three hours after launching.

After a medical checkup, Ham drew a bonus of a banana and a bit more apple on top of his scientifically prescribed menu.

His flight was one of graduated steps in a National Aeronautics and Space Administration program hopefully intended to put an American astronaut into several round trips about the earth in 1961.

In a big first step, Ham twice felt the crushing weight of increased gravity. Taking off, he weighed seven times more than on earth, and on coming down at a 5,000-mile per hour clip into the atmosphere was subjected to forces 12 times normal gravity.

But, also, for about seven minutes he felt no weight at all in free fall as he lay strapped on a couch within a capsule exactly like that built to carry a man aloft.

All this didn't bother his senses, judging from early analysis of information radioed down to earth, said space administration officials. Ham had to press levers within certain time limits or else get an electric shock. Partial checks so far show he never got a shock.

Ham's test was a prelude to sending one of seven human volunteers on a similar flight.

The dividends of Ham's flight came through a lucky chance. The Redstone rocket burned fuel too fast. This caused release of an escape rocket carried on top of Ham's capsule and gave an extra push so Ham traveled 40 miles higher and 130 miles farther than intended.

That gave Ham two extra minutes of being weightless and forced faster and hotter re-entry to the earth but cheerful Ham took it all without ill effects.

Plan To Shed Bases May Stir Hornet's Nest

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's order for a survey looking to "elimination of obsolete bases" of the armed forces can stir up hornet nests both at home and abroad.

The president's brief reference to the matter was in his State of the Union message. He did not differentiate between domestic and overseas bases, apparently leaving that to the Defense Department.

HARD TO CONVINCE

Even though new weapons or strategy may dictate the closing of bases, local communities which have received economic support from operation of the bases are hard to convince. They also have spokesmen in Congress.

Overseas, opinion can be divided. Some may look upon an American missile or air base as defense for the area. Others may—and often do—contend that bases may attract enemy rockets or bombers. And, as in the United States, there also is the matter of additional income for the community.

ALREADY STARTED

Actually, the process of trimming down the big network of Air Force, Navy and Army bases was under way before Kennedy ordered it included in the broad study.

During a six-month period ending last December, 30 major active bases were made standby or caretaker bases, reducing a June total of 772.

The rate of deactivation had been stepped up. In June, 1958, there were 840 bases at home and overseas. A year later there were 799.

House Demo Leaders Digging In For Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — After scoring an important victory on enlargement of its Rules Committee, the House Democratic leadership digs in today for a long fight to enact President John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

The fight probably will be a tough one, since yesterday's victory for the Kennedy administration and Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas was won with only a five-vote margin.

The House voted 217 to 212 to back Rayburn's plan to enlarge the Rules Committee from 12 to 15 members, wresting committee control from a conservative coalition. Theoretically this puts liberal Democrats in control by an 8-7 edge.

The White House reported Kennedy was pleased with the outcome. Officially he had taken no direct part in the fight, but left no doubt that he favored the Rayburn plan.

Under yesterday's action, Democrats will add two members to the committee and Republicans will add one. Republicans also have two vacancies to fill on the committee.

The new lineup will be 10 Democrats and five Republicans. The committee previously had eight Democrats and four Republicans—with the Republicans and two conservative Southern Democrats usually in control.

The House vote, while nominally wresting Rules Committee control from the coalition, indicated that the coalition is a force that must be reckoned with on the House floor. It found 22 Republicans joining 195 Democrats to uphold Rayburn, and 64 Democrats and 148 Republicans voting against him.

U.S. Readies Agency For Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Latin America, an area of deep concern in President John F. Kennedy's State of the Union message, is getting immediate attention from the new administration.

A new, high-level agency, headed by Adolf A. Berle Jr., a Franklin D. Roosevelt brain truster, has been named to handle Latin American affairs.

A food for peace mission to south of the border may be named early next week and may go on tour before the end of the month.

Two days ago, Kennedy in his message to Congress lamented Cuba's Communist leanings. He said broad action was needed to aid all Latin American nations.

Late yesterday, Berle's task force was announced. He has been at work at the State Department for several days.

The task force, according to an informed source, will have the broadest powers ever given any agency for dealing with Latin American affairs.

Indications are the force will deal with economic aid and financial assistance, cultural and social matters, and apparently will have charge of U.S. activity in the Organization of American States.

On the interdepartmental force with Berle will be Theodore Achilles, counselor of the State Department; Thomas Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs; William Bundy, deputy assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, and Lincoln Gordon, an economics professor at Harvard University.

GOP Governor Hopefuls Listed

SACRAMENTO (AP)— Republican State Chairman John Krehbiel of Pasadena says movie actor Ronald Reagan is a possible GOP candidate for governor in 1962.

At a news conference he listed other possibilities including former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, former Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers, Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles, and Sens. Richard Dolwig of Redwood City and John F. McCarthy of San Rafael.

He also said former vice president Richard M. Nixon hasn't been ruled out.

He Had Appendix Out, So Did She

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Irwin L. Jones was visiting her husband at a hospital following an appendectomy when she declared:

"I feel like my appendix is bothering me." "Nonsense," said her husband. A week later Mrs. Jones was rushed to a hospital to have her appendix removed.

DEBATES HELD GETTING OUT RECORD VOTE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An American Broadcasting Co. executive told Congress today the four "great debates" were largely responsible for the record vote in the presidential election and for making voters better informed.

Alfred R. Beckman, ABC vice president in charge of the Washington office, said the debates between President John F. Kennedy and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon were made possible by the temporary suspension of the federal rule requiring broadcasters to grant equal time to all political candidates.

Beckman made his remarks in testimony prepared for the second day of hearings by the Senate communications subcommittee to review the suspension.

The ABC official joined earlier broadcast industry witnesses in urging that the equal time requirement be repealed permanently.

Bird Remembers By Landmarks

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—University of Wisconsin graduate student has found that at least one type of wild bird, the bank swallow, finds its way back home by remembering landmarks.

Theodore Sargent of Harwich, Mass., who is completing three years' research on the homing habits of birds, found that as long as the swallows could see the surrounding terrain from their cages, they had the homing tendency up to 50 miles from their burrows.

When the cages were covered, the birds showed no homeward orientation.

Germans Think Arizona Is West

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—University of Arizona Prof. Jean R. Beck returned from a trip to Ravensbury, Germany, and reported the municipal band had a number called "The Arizona March."

Dr. Beck asked how the Germans had selected such a title. The bandmaster answered:

"We're quite familiar with Arizona. That's where many of those western movies are filmed."

'Spy' Satellite Circling Earth In Secret Test

POINT ARGUELLO (AP)—Samos II is circling the globe every 95 minutes today on a pioneer mission which may lead to a whole system of United States electronic military scouts.

The ultimate goal of the program is to be able to make detailed photographs of any point on earth and thus detect a buildup by a potential foe.

The mission is so secret that the Air Force won't even confirm that the satellite, launched yesterday, will radio pictures back to earth. The orbiting vehicle is equipped with cameras to photograph ground terrain and sensors to record electro-magnetic radiation.

It can be made to transmit information as it passes over stations where data can be reproduced, stored, integrated and interpreted by automatic display equipment.

Signals from Samos II were being picked up by tracking and telemetry stations at Vandenberg Air Force Base at Oahu, Hawaii and at Kodiak, Alaska.

All orbital data was being received at the Air Force Satellite Test Center in Sunnyvale.

Samos I, launched last October, failed to orbit.

No. 2 in the series roared aloft yesterday into a drizzly sky. Two hours later the Air Force said it had achieved polar orbit. Its path carries the satellite at altitudes ranging from 300 to 350 miles.

Proved reserves of natural gas at the close of 1958 were estimated at more than 254.1 trillion cubic feet.

DAVID BEN-GURION
Wants his way

Israel Leader Puts Political Future On Line

JERUSALEM (AP)—David Ben-Gurion, one of the founding fathers of the Israeli republic, staked his political future today on getting his own way in the "Lavon affair."

President Izhak Ben-Zvi, accepting the 74-year-old patriarch's resignation as prime minister yesterday, gave no immediate indication whether he would ask him to try and form a new government or call for new elections. Ben-Gurion's cabinet will continue as a caretaker government.

Ben-Gurion has quit as prime minister seven times before—usually as a political maneuver—and always has bounced back on top.

'NO ALTERNATIVE'

He said in his letter of resignation that he had "no alternative" after failing to gain unanimous cabinet support in his row with former Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon.

Israeli censorship has clouded the Lavon affair but it apparently stems from the smashing of an Israeli spy ring in Egypt in 1954, when Lavon was defense minister. Lavon was accused of responsibility for what was termed a "security mishap" and was forced out of the cabinet. He has been trying to clear himself ever since.

After several investigations, a committee of seven cabinet ministers in Ben-Gurion's coalition government cleared Lavon of blame last Dec. 25 and the majority of the cabinet approved the findings.

DEMANDED INQUIRY

Ben-Gurion, however, refused to go along. He demanded a judicial inquiry in which witnesses would testify under oath, and accused Lavon of a campaign of slander against leading Israelis.

Lavon is now secretary-general of the powerful Histadrut labor federation and a leading member of Ben-Gurion's dominant Mapai (Labor) party, which has been split by the controversy.

The aging prime minister said that in clearing Lavon, "the government adopted a decision which I cannot reconcile with my conscience and I have no alternative but to resign."

Little Encephalitis

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The state Department of Public Health reports that there was a relatively low incidence of encephalitis, or sleeping sickness, in California last year. The department counted 14 cases in 1960. Only twice in the past 15 years have fewer than 14 cases been reported, the department said.

FIRST APARTMENTS FOR MARINSHIP—This drawing by architect Gunnar Andersen of Greenbrae shows how the Pelican Apartments, to be built on the Marinship waterfront, will appear when completed. Permission for the project was granted by the Sausalito City Council last night.

Sausalito Council Approves Big Marinship Apartment

The Pelican Apartments, an 84-unit project in Marinship costing $1,230,000 won approval last night of the Sausalito City Council.

The council granted a variance for more than one building on a lot, as well as a use permit for the apartment structures.

Co-owners Norman T. Johnsen and George P. Rischmuller have planned the two-story apartments to be in five buildings. Each will have a marine view and face the Clipper Yacht Co. Marina where residents may tie up their boats. Construction will start next fall, they said.

Apartments will be reached via the proposed harbor drive, which starts at Gate 5 road and ends at the bridgeway outlet of the proposed east-west road.

Johnsen told the council there will be 10 apartments containing two bedrooms and two baths and remaining apartments will be one-bedroom. Average rental for single bedroom units is to be $160 per month; for two bedrooms, $235 per month.

One - bedroom apartments have 700 square feet of space and the two-bedroom units, 1,080 square feet. Large outdoor decks in all apartments will be provided.

A heated swimming pool is planned to be located, facing the bay, at the project's center. There will be 127 parking spaces and landscaping will surround the apartments.

Gunnar Andersen of Greenbrae is architect.

Johnsen said apartments will have radiant electric heat; dishwashers in two-bedroom units. Kitchens with electric garbage disposal units and ovens.

200 Friends Of Vera Schultz Honor Her At Special Dinner

Nearly 200 friends of Mrs. Vera Schultz crowded the dining room of the Meadow Club in Fairfax last night at an appreciation dinner for the former Mill Valley city councilman and county supervisor. Mrs. Schultz greeted the group as they arrived with her husband, Ray Schultz, and her daughter, Mrs. Joyce Demers.

A series of speakers reviewed Mrs. Schultz's background of public service and a hilarious sketch of Marin County operation with an "economy government" wound up the program.

Leland H. Jordan, former county counsel and master of ceremonies, read a series of telegrams from political friends of Mrs. Schultz and others. Gov. Edmund G. Brown urged her "to keep up the good work as a private citizen" and declared he hopes "to see you soon return to public office." Other telegrams included those from Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, Treasurer of the United States Elizabeth Smith, Rep. Clement W. Miller, and Supervisor Walter R. Castro, who was not able to be present.

Supervisor William Gnoss and former Supervisor James Marshall both attended.

Praise for Mrs. Schultz came in a series of nine short talks, each directed toward a different phase of her activities.

Mrs. Edmond Gross discussed her early Parent-Teacher Assn. activities and presented Mrs. Schultz with an honorary life membership on behalf of the 14th District (Marin-Sonoma) of P-TA.

Stephen H. Kaufmann and Dr. William Upton, chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission, spoke on Mrs. Schultz's efforts toward better planning in Marin. (Dr. Upton also presented a bouquet of carnations to Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, who has just retired from the county planning commission.)

Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director, represented Mrs. Norman Livermore, who was ill, and told of Mrs. Schultz's work in the field of conservation.

Mrs. Jane Ruby discussed her affectiveness toward "basic good government."

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh told of Mrs. Schultz's political activities and her work for the Democratic party organization.

Milen Dempster recalled her part in the redevelopment of Marin City.

Hardy Westmore spoke on her battle for fair play in housing for minorities.

Final speaker was Harold Stockstad, who spoke on the civic center development. He presented her with an original newspaper cartoon, drawn by Robert Bastian of Belvedere and printed in the San Francisco Chronicle, which showed aroused citizens of Marin riding to the defense of "Fort Civic Center."

The skit was put on by Alfred Azevedo of Tiburon and his wife, the former planning commissioner. It depicted the plight and activities of the last two employees of Marin County after an "economy government" had reduced the tax rate to one-half cent on each $100 assessed value. Their entire duty was answering the phone and making excuses and explanation for problems.

Mrs. Azevedo presented Mrs. Schultz with a huge scroll of appreciation signed by everyone attending the dinner.

Mrs. Schultz responded with a brief speech in which she told of having a wonderful evening even though "I didn't think I could accept the praise on the heels of the apparent rejection of my principles." She was defeated for re-election last June by J. Walter Blair.

Mrs. Schultz thanked not only other members of the supervisors for their "teamwork" but included the people who had supported her both in campaign and in office.

"Tonight I feel so intensely inspired," she declared, that perhaps her retirement from public activity won't be long.

Pedestrian Hit By Auto, Hurt

Roy G. Van Sice, 45, of 805 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was injured last night when hit by a car while walking across Lindaro Street at Second Street.

He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a sprained left knee and bruises of the right ankle.

Police Officer Wade R. Powell said Van Sice was struck by a car driven by Joseph F. Cardoza, 47, of 8 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael. Cardoza had been traveling west on Second Street and was making a left turn onto Lindaro when the accident happened at 9:30 p.m. Cardoza was not cited.

Voters Reject School Tax Hikes

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Voters rejected two school tax increases yesterday.

The Sequoia Union high school district had asked a tax increase from $1.50 to $1.68 per $100 assessed valuation. The vote was 9,348 in favor and 10,075 against.

Redwood City elementary district had sought an increase from $1.65 to $2.21. The vote was 4,463 yes and 4,893 no.

Sen. McCarthy Urges U.S. Transit Aid

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A resolution urging Congress to approve a bill to aid mass transportation in the nation's metropolitan areas was introduced in the legislature yesterday by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael).

The federal legislation, if enacted, would provide 325 million dollars in loans and grants to metropolitan areas for the planning and improvement of mass transportation facilities.

McCarthy said that in both San Francisco and Los Angeles, "financing the facilities required is the major stumbling block to effective action.

"There is a growing awareness," he said, "that federal aid, supplementing fare revenues and local tax support, may be the only answer."

One of the first American automobiles was invented in 1893 by Elwood Haynes of Kokomo, Ind.

New Device Quickly Tells Ocean Weather

MONTEREY (AP)—The Navy today began formal operation of an electronic forecasting system which tells quickly what weather conditions can be expected on the sea surface in any given area up to 48 hours later.

This system is designed to do for surface vessels and submarine what already established forecasting methods do for overseas aircraft.

CHART COURSE AID

It is supposed to foretell visibility, the height of swells and other meteorological conditions for any ocean area in the northern hemisphere.

With such forecasts a ship may be able to chart its course to avoid rough water. It may tell search and rescue units what weather handicaps will await them at the scene of a plane or ship in distress.

The system is called the Fleet Numerical Weather Facility.

FROM MANY POINTS

It does its forecasting by getting the data from as many as 3,000 meteorological reporting points and processing them by using enormous collections of numbers to produce a forecast.

An electronic computer does this is in about 40 minutes. During that time it makes about 300 million computations.

The computer comes up with a lot of numbers which can be easily applied to a blank weather map. These numbers are reported to the Navy's Pacific missile range at Point Mugu and to ships and other shore stations. Everybody can have a map in a few minutes.

Old Roman Helmet Acquired By Museum

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An ancient Roman parade helmet, typical of those worn by high-ranking Roman officers during the time of Christ, has been acquired by the Toledo Museum of Art.

The silver helmet is decorated with gold foil and is thought to have come from the eastern provinces of the Roman Empire. Few such helmets are known to exist.

EUGENE DENNIS
Claimed by cancer

Eugene Dennis, Ex-U.S. Red Leader, Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eugene Dennis, 56, former head of the U.S. Communist Party who was downgraded a year ago, died last night of lung cancer.

Dennis, who served several jail terms for his activities, had been ill ever since he lost party power and had returned last week to Mt. Sinai Hospital for treatment, a party spokesman said.

FOLLOWED MOSCOW

Grey-haired and tweedy looking, Dennis was a dogged follower of whatever line Moscow laid down.

He devotedly backed Stalin after World War II, but after Nikita S. Khrushchev rose to power and made his "destalinization" speech in 1956, it took Dennis only two weeks to change his public position in a Daily Worker article.

Dennis was born on Aug. 10, 1904 in Seattle, Wash. He was christened Francis Xavier Waldron, but he changed his name to Eugene Dennis and used several other aliases after joining the Communists.

Dennis became a party member officially in 1926. He was elected to the party's national committee in 1936, and was named national secretary, the No. 2 post, in 1938.

TOP IN 1946

He reached the top position of general secretary in 1946, directing the party through the cold war years immediately after World War II.

But at the party convention in December, 1959, Dennis was "promoted" to the job of national chairman.

Dennis served as his own attorney in a Smith Act trial in 1949 with 10 other Red defendants. He was sentenced to five years in jail and served three years and eight months.

Youth Slashes Japanese Writer's Wife

TOKYO (UPI)—A youthful Japanese rightist today slashed and critically injured the wife of a magazine publisher who had printed a story lightheartedly predicting revolution in Japan.

The youth, about 20, escaped after knifing Mrs. Masako Shimanaka, 36, and fatally stabbing the family maid, Kane Maruyama, 50, in the Shimanaka home.

Mrs. Shimanaka was hospitalized in critical condition. She described her attacker as a self-admitted rightist.

Mrs. Shimanaka was the wife of Hoji Shimanaka, president of Chuo Koron magazine, which published a story in December describing a dream in which a mythical royal family was butchered during a revolution.

Rightwing organizations issued strong protests, and Shimanaka published an apology in the January issue of the publication, one of Japan's intellectual magazines.

Falls, Breaks Hip

Mrs. Elsie Fischer of 16 Hill Street, Mill Valley, was reported in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital after falling yesterday at her home and fracturing her left hip.

TERRA LINDA'S NEW OVERPASS

Traffic now flows smoothly past Terra Linda where signal lights on Highway 101 used to check it. This air view looking north shows how an overpass now leads to and from the San Rafael suburb. Careful study of the picture may help avoid confusion in how to work out the scientifically calculated but unavoidably tricky traffic pattern.

Novato High Pupils Elect 8 To Office

Eight student council representatives were elected yesterday at Novato High School.

The representatives were to have been elected Thursday with other school officers, but election officials invalidated the vote because of a large number of incorrectly voted ballots.

One girl and one boy were elected to the council from each class, for the second semester.

Fran Hassick defeated Lynn Murray and Marsha Hall in the freshman class. Donna Thomas was elected in the sophomore class, defeating Linda Dimmick. Bobbie Whitlock will represent the junior class, defeating Pat Webb. Jan Smith was elected senior girls' representative, defeating Sue Downey.

Allan Blos was elected freshman boys' representative, over Ken Marder and Kevin Downey. David Paul won the sophomore post over George Van Dyke. Mike Milano defeated Bob Shultz for junior representative. Bob McBride defeated Ron Witzel for senior representative.

Vote totals were not made public, after a student council decision to table the problem until after this semester's elections.

Burning Garbage? No, Just Steaks

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—A Tempe resident was cooking some steaks on an outside grill when police arrived.

The officers said a neighbor had seen the smoke, taken a deep sniff and reported someone was breaking the city ordinance against burning garbage.

SATURDAY IS DEADLINE FOR NEW LICENSES

Saturday noon is the deadline for registering motor vehicles for 1961 at the Marin County office of the Department of Motor Vehicles, 1926 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Straight renewals, without any change, may also be made at the First National Bank in Novato or the Wells Fargo-American Trust Co. in Mill Valley. Friday at 6 p.m. is the deadline for persons wishing to renew their auto registration at either of the two banks.

Motor Vehicles officials remind persons that those registrations which will be an exact duplicate of the 1960 registrations are the only ones the banks can handle. The DMV office in San Rafael will take care of those registrations needing change.

City Employees To Install Officers

New officers of the San Rafael City Employees Assn. will be installed Saturday night at a dinner-meeting at the San Rafael Elks Club.

They are president Kenneth Mazza, fire department; vice president Lew Ankney, parks department, and secretary-treasurer Aurora Leveroni, city clerk's office. Outgoing president is Mario Soldavini of the parks department.

The roast beef dinner begins at 8 p.m.

To Be In Exercise

Army Pvt. John C. Starnes Jr. of 180 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, is scheduled to participate with other personnel of the 25th Artillery in "Exercise Winter Shield II," tomorrow through Feb. 8 at the Grafenwohr-Hohenfels training area in southern Germany.

Fund Lack May Cut State Park Services

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Division of Beaches and Parks has informed the State Parks Commission that lack of funds will cause a cutback in park services and may result in a layoff of some personnel this spring.

DeWitt Nelson, director of the Department of Natural Resources, said there would have to be a curtailment of services this spring and said there is no sign of relief in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposed 1961-62 budget.

"We might be forced to cut down the level of service at the opening of the season and may possibly be forced to make some layoffs," Nelson said.

Nelson said the Division of Beaches and Parks normally saves money by not replacing personnel who resign but said no one is quitting. This is due to the "apparent" recession he said.

"There have been no normal salary savings through attrition," Nelson said. "We'll be in the same predicament next year if the proposed budget goes through."

The division is not allowed to hire persons as replacements unless it is an extremely important job, said Charles A. DeTurk, chief of the division.

"Our field people are working all the hours we can possibly ask," he said. "We can't keep facilities open as we would like to."

DeTurk said the proposed budget allows only 35.5 new positions for the department. He said 10 of these positions were in the Sacramento headquarters.

Another spokesman said the division is getting new facilities but has no man to staff them.

Ronald E. Miller, deputy chief of the division in charge of administrative services gave the Colorado River State Park as an example. Miller said there are no men stationed there.

The division also reported it is keeping the new Gold Discovery State Park museum open only a few hours a day because of lack of personnel.

The division said the proposed budget is based on the division paying 35 per cent of the funds from fees taken in at the parks. DeTurk said this was a pretty "husky" sum for the parks to collect.

The division also reported its budget proposals had been reduced in Brown's budget. DeTurk said one proposal for $818,000 for land acquisition was cut from the budget entirely.

Mumps Bump Up Again To Lead Disease List

Mumps, which never seem to disappear from the Marin scene, had another upsurge last week, as 20 new cases were reported to the Marin County Health Department.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, announced 15 of the new cases were in San Rafael, two on the Tiburon Peninsula, and one each in Kentfield, Fairfax and Novato.

There were 11 new measles cases reported last week, the highest number this winter. San Rafael had only one of these. Ross led the measles parade with four cases.

Eleven cases of streptococcic infections were reported, of which there were three each in San Rafael, Corte Madera and Novato. There was one new case of syphillis and one of gonorrhea.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

Marin Firms Schedule Exhibits At National Sports-Boat Show

Many of the nation's boat makers and dealers suffered a jolt last year after the fast course set during 1959. Pleasure boats dropped off 14 per cent, the first decline since the boom began 10 years ago. Most of this was in the outboard class rather than in expensive inboard cruisers. Some dealers have trimmed prices.

But the industry is far from stagnant. Interest still runs high. The National Sports and Boat Show at the San Francisco Cow Palace Feb. 3 through Feb. 12 is expected to draw large crowds.

About nine Marin firms are scheduled to have exhibits and many others will be on the scene representing nationally known lines of all types of marine equipment. It will be a good preview of what you might expect to see at Marin's own sports and boat show in March.

ONE MARIN MANUFACTURER that will exhibit is Maherajah Water Skis, 310 Gate Five Road, Marinship, Sausalito.

This is a two-man enterprise of Bob Maher who divides living between Oakland and Marin, and Ralph Corwell of Mill Valley. They build laminated ash and mahogany skis for professional and serious-minded water skiers. About 80 per cent of their business is direct with the consumer. Specialties are slalom and racing skis, custom and semi-custom made, and individually fitted bindings.

Water skiing, they find, is undergoing a strong upward trend in Northern and Central California and quite as much so in Marin where the Maherajah plant has been located since early last year.

Maherajah skis will be shown at the San Francisco show in the exhibits of Lake County (where the firm originated), Unlimited Marine of South San Francisco and Sanger boats.

TWO MARIN NAMES are in the news in connection with staff movements and additions of the Matson Navigation Co.

Stanly Powell Jr., 130 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo, has been appointed to a newly created position as executive vice president of the company. Powell who joined Matson in 1941 has served successively in the accounting department, as assistant treasurer, treasurer and vice president of the freight division for Hawaii and the South Pacific.

J. W. Smith, 45 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera, formerly supervising accountant with the United States General Accounting Office in San Francisco, has joined the Matson firm as assistant controller. He is past president of the San Francisco chapter of the Federal Government Accountants Association.

ADVANCEMENTS in air conditioning and refrigeration were the subjects reviewed at a seminar staged by Recold Corp. in Los Angeles last week for its agents. Recold is the largest manufacturer of commercial air conditioning equipment in the west.

Howard McPherson, Arroyo Road, Forest Knolls who is associated with California Refrigeration Co. in San Francisco attended the seminar.

AND SPEAKING of commercial refrigeration, Ray Winther Co. that has installations in progress at Al Santos and Neil Martin's Shoreline Supermarket in Tamalpais Valley and at William Jonas' Roger Wilco Market in Ignacio has opened another North Bay office in Napa to supplement the one it has in Novato.

RAILWAY EXPRESS AGENCY'S San Rafael office should be in for a move soon. Lease is up at 1015 Tamalpais Avenue in another two months and the premises are scheduled for other use—possibly divided for two separate businesses.

The express company has not yet contracted for a new location.

Carver Of Faces Makes A Living

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Neighbors in the little Negro community of Seatack call Clarence Williams "the man who carves those ugly faces."

But people like and buy them. Williams, who began wood carving when he was confined with tuberculosis, sells them for $5 to $25 and Walter Thrift, operator of the Artists Gallery here, says the sales have averaged one a day. Williams had never done any carving before his illness.

BIGGEST EVER MADE—Coming out of the press at Dumont Corp.'s plant in San Rafael is 400-pound insulation piece of Minuteman missile, claimed to be the largest and heaviest compression molded plastic part ever produced. The "dish" is actually very smooth, but myriads of imbedded insulation pieces reflect light to create speckled appearance. Delmar Miller (center, rear) supervises the operation while Robert M. Daiss (left), company president, keeps close watch.

PLASTIC 'DISH'

'Minuteman' Part Made In San Rafael

One of the major pieces for the Air Force's "Minuteman" intercontinental missile is being produced by Dumont Manufacturing Co. of San Rafael.

The piece is a 400-pound, 60-inch diameter reinforced plastic "dish," said to be the largest and heaviest compression molded part ever produced.

Molded to close tolerance in one piece and in a single press "shot," the 14-inch-deep "dish" is the aft closure insulation for the engine of the first-stage Minuteman. It is designed to protect the steel structural casing from damage by burning propellant.

The steel casing of the "Minuteman," explained Robert M. Daiss, president of Dumont, could not stand the heat created in launching. The molded plastic dish will be subjected to temperatures above 5000 degrees at high pressures, yet will continue to insulate the steel casing for the life of motor firing. In service, the dish will slowly burn and char on the nozzle side, but will hold the temperature on the casing itself to a maximum of 200 degrees.

Dumont, a Dutron Corp. subsidiary, has manufactured insulative components for the Polaris, Atlas and Eagle missiles, and is researching new structural design concepts for aircraft, missiles and spacecraft.

Different types of molded dishes will be fabricated for the Minuteman. The materials will consist of high temperature resistant phenolic resins reinforced with silica, asbestos and graphite fibers, singly or in combination.

The steam-heated press in which the dish is stamped was designed especially to Dumont specifications for production of large, reinforced plastics moldings. It has an 8-foot stroke which accommodates a wide range of tooling and permits rapid die changes.

Four independently controlled cylinders pull the 5-by-7 foot platen closed. Additional hydraulic pressure can be added to any of the cylinders to assure parallel closure. The press is used also to make smaller plastics moldings which require extremely high pressures — in the neighborhood of 10,000 pounds per square inch.

MAN IN A SPACE DISH—Harold Christiansen, a sales engineer at Dumont Corp. in San Rafael, sits in 400-pound, 5-foot diameter plastic "dish" which Dumont is manufacturing as a component of Minuteman missile for first-stage propulsion of ICBM.

County Saves Property In Beach Town

A piece of county-owned property in Stinson Beach was nearly sold yesterday during a meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, but was saved by Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director, who just happened to be at the meeting.

Appearing on another planning matter, Mrs. Summers started to leave the chamber when she was called back by Board Chairman William D. Fusselman on an agenda item marked: "Purchase of county property at Stinson Beach — LeRoy H. Hines."

CHECKS QUICKLY

She quickly checked, and said this was a parcel the planners felt should not be sold—that it might be saved for a central parking lot.

County Clerk George S. Jones said neither Hines — a San Franciscan with Stinson Beach holdings — or anyone else had bid the $2,000 price.

Nobody seemed able to recall much of anything about the whole affair, which started with Hine's recent request. Jones' minutes showed that Supervisor J. Walter Blair had moved to sell the parcel, with George Ludy seconding, but neither could remember either investigating or acting. All agreed no second chance for private purchase would be given.

Hearing was set for Feb. 21 on the planning commission's proposed new zoning categories R-P-1 and R-P-2, which Principal Planner B. D. Dobbs explained would extend the "R-P" district scheme from present multiple into the realms of single-family and duplex.

APPROVES EXCEPTION

The board approved planning commission exceptions provided on tentative map of Marinero Residence No. 2, a 27-acre subdivision in Tiburon including a question of 32 feet of paved width on Lyford Drive and 18 per cent gradients; conditions for a 1.20-acre addition to previously authorized trailer park near Sims Street south of San Rafael; conditions and exceptions for seven-acre Del Mesa Heights Subdivision south of Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield, and use permit for a bunderette in the Terra Linda Shopping Center.

Decision will be made Feb. 7 on a median barrier at South Knoll Road and Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, asked by the State Division of Highways to prevent left turns as the highway is widened.

Approval was given Dillon Beach area rezoning to single-family residential, modernizing a subdivision area in existence since the early 1900s and under interim zoning since 1938.

Marinite Charged With Manslaughter In Auto Collision

A San Rafael man involved in a fatal head-on crash on the Redwood Highway north of Petaluma Sunday was charged with felony manslaughter and felony drunken driving yesterday.

Charges were filed by the Sonoma County district attorney against Thomas J. Sauer, 43, of 19 Bayview Street, a machinist at the Mare Island Naval Shipyard.

Sauer suffered an ankle injury in the crash and was still confined to San Rafael General Hospital today, where his condition was reported as good.

Killed in the accident was Reginald Sutter, 46, of San Francisco, a jitney driver, the California Highway Patrol said Sauer was southbound in a northbound highway lane and crashed head-on into Sutter's sports roadster.

Sewer Charge Refund Ordinance Ordered

The San Rafael Sanitation District board yesterday ordered an ordinance prepared which would refund the $125 sewer connection charge to home builders in Marin Bay when a $110,000 treatment plant is built by Latipac-Perini Corp.

Twentieth Century Homes of San Carlos, which has applied for the first building permit in the Marin Bay development, is waiting for the ordinance to be approved before taking out a permit, building officials said yesterday. The board directed the ordinance be ready for action at its Feb. 16 meeting.

The sanitary district charges $125 for each sewer connection to a single-family home to help pay for enlarging the treatment plant off Francisco Boulevard.

But according to Norris Rawles, sanitation district administrator, the Marin Bay treatment plant will be built by funds from the Marin Bay Assessment District. The first stage of the plant will handle sewage from 400 homes.

Rawles and the county counsel will draft the ordinance amendment.

The San Carlos contracting firm has applied for a permit to build a one-story, eight room house with stucco siding and cedar shingle roof covering 2,704 square feet.

The sanitation board granted Joseph B. Rice permission to extend a six-inch sewer line 150 feet to serve a commercial development just outside the San Rafael city limits off San Francisco Boulevard near the California Park overhead.

Directors set a special meeting for 12:30 p.m. tomorrow to decide whether to approve an agreement drawn up by the county counsel with the bankruptcy trustees of Stegge Development Co. If approved it would determinate an agreement with Stegge who went bankrupt developing Glenwood, in which 1,030 sewer connections have been reserved for the now non-existant corporation.

Civic Center Stop Order Still Causing Trouble

The recent one-week stop order on Marin's Civic Center is still causing delays, the board of supervisors was told yesterday.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said architect Aaron Green was in trouble over folding doors for the adminstration building. Fire Protection Products of San Francisco, the contract manufacturer, got a stop work notice but up to yesterday hadn't received a notice to resume, he said.

This led to delay for Ben C. Gerwick Co. of Petaluma, concrete subcontractor, Bruce added.

Green and Bruce wanted Clerk George S. Jones instructed to rescind the stop order sent to the San Francisco firm, which would then in turn get the Petaluma company going again.

Jones said he's sent such a notice already, registered mail, but would send it and others the board suggested he handle. He said he'd received back as non-deliverable a stop-work order sent of the makers of seats for the administration building: Contemporary Office Furniture of Grand Prairie Tex.

"Is this a fictitious company?" asked Supervisor J. Walter Blair. "Why can't they receive their mail?"

Nobody seemed sure.

As Technical As They Want

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — An Oklahoma University brochure said:

"Technically, the university's new high-speed computer is an asynchronous, parallel, highly flexible, binary research machine capable of performing either fixed-point of floating-point calculations."

And the brochure added:

"This explanation is just about as technical as most people care to get."

Sausalito Adopts Part Of Marinship Policy On Zoning

The Sausalito City Council last night unanimously adopted a zoning policy for a large portion of Marinship.

Following three recommendations of the Marinship Property Owners Assn., the council zoned all property on both sides of Gate 5 road and all property west of the proposed North-South road as industrial-commercial. The remaining property was zoned for waterfront uses. Zoning applies from northern tip of Marinship south to Spring Street.

The council, which last week adopted a circulation policy, still has before it several phases of Marinship policy to adopt. One is a zoning policy for properties in the southern tip of the area. This is to be zoned following full hearings before the planning commission and the council.

T. L. Schoonmaker, president of A. G. Schoonmaker Co. Inc., agreed last night to send the council a letter, with signatures of four other property owners in his area stating their zoning desires.

Schoonmaker said he would like his property zoned industrial exclusively. "We have no other plans for that area save industrial," he said.

E. A. Lando, whose property was zoned last night, said he would like his property to be included with the Schoonmaker group. Councilmen said this would be considered later.

A questionnaire asking all property owners in Marinship their ideas on land use is being prepared and will be available at 9 a.m. Friday from the city clerk. When these questionnaires are returned, the planning commission is to set a hearing on land uses.

Property owners applauded the council's action in adopting the zoning policy.

The council also took this action regarding Marinship:

1. Appointed councilmen George E. Keeney and Howard Sievers and City Manager Charles A. Brown as a committee to review the Heath-Alied Grocers request for a use permit to build a shopping center.

2. Approved a variance and use permit for the construction of the Johnsen-Rischmuller apartment project. (See story and picture on page 4.)

3. Requested councilman Sievers to draw up a report on a proposed pedestrian walkway to follow the Marinship waterfront. The walkway would be for the public.

4. Voted unanimously to require a substantial setback from the bulkhead line for private residential uses, the exact setback to be established for each property owner by more precise plan and study.

5. Voted unanimously to ban stilt construction for apartment houses on the waterfront.

6. Put over to another meeting a decision on what the mixiumum building height will be for Marinship. The plan calls for 32 feet.

7. Voted unanimously to require 40-foot paving width on the proposed harbor.

8. Voted unanimously to require "adequate" offstreet parking.

9. Voted unanimously that foundations for any structure should be certified by a registered engineer as being structurally sound.

PUBLIC BEST JUDGE?

Ad Firm, NBC Heads Clash On TV Worth

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Television sets haven't become standard equipment in automobiles yet, but the subject of television highlighted yesterday's session of the National Automobile Dealers Assn. convention.

Robert W. Sarnoff, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., and Whit Hobbs, vice president and director of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne, Inc., presented different views on the subject.

Sarnoff rejected charges of too much crime and violence on television screens as "for the most part untrue or exaggerated." Hobbs criticized television, movies and radio for "stuff that's tired and tasteless and trite."

Sarnoff said criticism of television networks seems "to be directed more to the tastes of the public than the dereliction of broadcasters." He said the public is the best judge of what it needs and . . . whether it should buy things it doesn't need.

"There are always people ready to run down these freedoms," he said. "They are insolent charioteers who, in their superior wisdom, ride roughshod over such scorned manifestations of popular taste as tails fins or westerns."

Hobbs said of television that "15 per cent is brilliant, timely and entertaining and responsible and excellent. The other 85 per cent is predictable."

Vandal Pricks Tire

A vandal punctured the tire of a parked car at Nave Lands parking lot in Ignacio, Robert Nave reported to the sheriff last night. The car belonged to Alvin J. Wilfert, 801 McClay Road, Novato.

IRON IN MARIN WATER MAY AFFECT WASHING

Sorry lady, but your washes won't come out so white for awhile.

The sad word came today from William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District.

It will do no good to put more bleach in the wash water, Seeger said; in fact, the bleach will cause rusty looking streaks on the clothes.

The reason is that there is an excess of iron in Marin Municipal Water District supplies. The iron, though not in harmful quantity, is released by bleaches to streak clothes washed in the water.

The only solution, said Seeger, is to leave out the bleach — although the clothes won't wash so white.

Seeger said there is no way to tell how long it may be before it will be safe to use bleach in the water again. Last year, a similar condition persisted for about four months.

Four New Committees Selected By Fusselman

Four new committees of the Marin County Board of Supervisors were announced yesterday by Chairman William D. Fusselman, along with a list of matters on which the board will act as a committee of the whole.

All are two-man committees, like the finance committee of Supervisor J. Walter Blair, chairman, and George Ludy, announced early last month.

Ludy, five years a member of the Marin County Planning Commission before his election as supervisor, becomes chairman of a planning committee with William Gnoss as member.

Gnoss is chairman of a health - welfare - hospital and farm committee, with Ludy as a member.

Former chairman Walter R. Castro becomes chairman of a fire and law enforcement committee, including probation, with Blair as member.

Fusselman named himself chairman of a public works committee with Castro as member.

The board will act as its own committee to handle assessments and matters involving veterans service officer, communications, agricultural commissioner, library and farm advisor.

Fusselman said that "it will be well if the finance committee starts working this month, together with the auditor and administrator, on the budget."

SONOMA PART OF PROJECT

Petaluma Aqueduct Bid Brings Hope For Low Cost

The low bid for construction of the Petaluma aqueduct opened yesterday in Sonoma County brought elated hopes of low cost construction to officials of the North Marin Water District.

Jerome Gilbert, manager of the district, noted that the $1,724,874 bid of Galbraith Construction Co. of Hayward for construction on the Sonoma section of the line was within a few percentage points of water district engineers' estimates.

The figure is about $10,000 below the cost estimated when the North Marin district and Sonoma County agreed to contact for joint construction of a line which will bring Russian River water to Novato.

Sonoma County supervisors are expected officially to approve awarding of the contract Tuesday. Construction will start this spring on laying a 24-inch pipe from Santa Rosa to Cotati, and a 33-inch line from Cotati to Petaluma.

Bids on the North Marin section of the line will be opened at 1:30 p.m., Feb. 7 for construction of about 10 miles of pipe from Petaluma to Novato. On the same day, Sonoma County will open bids for sale of $2,670,000 worth of bonds to finance its end of the project.

The North Marin district will open bids for approximately $1,400,000 worth of bonds March 7. A $3,790,000 bond issue, for 10 years of expansion and improvement of the North Marin district was approved by district voters in June, 1960.

There were 11 bidders for the Sonoma section of the project, none from Marin. Highest bid was $2,763,720 by Charles L. Harney, builder of Candlestick Park.

Man Ordered To Remove Trash

Robert T. Evju of San Rafael, who operates Evju Products Co. in San Francisco, must remove a truckload of rubbish from a creek on Lucas Valley Road or face prosecution for violating the county anti-litter law.

Evju told Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court yesterday that he was in the process of moving out of his San Rafael home at 315 Summit Avenue. His son, who now attends college in Portland, Ore., dumped some rubbish near an old wooden bridge on Lucas Valley Road.

Evju said he had not authorized the dumping and knew nothing about it.

Marin Midshipmen In Inaugural Parade

Three Naval Academy midshipmen from San Rafael were members of the middies' brigade which marched in the inaugural parade for President Kennedy.

They are Walter A. Ericson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ericson of 49 Reservoir Road; Roy N. Wallace, son of Gordon W. Wallace of 150 Holmes Avenue, and Bruce W. Churchill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa G. Churchill of 120 Kinross Drive.

Ex-GI Bows To Segregationists' Pressure, Leaves New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The white boycott at desegrated McDonogh 19 grade school was complete again today after the family of two white boys succumbed to segregationist pressures and left the city during the night.

John N. Thompson, 33-year-old ex-GI, left with his wife and six children for an undisclosed destination. His two sons, Gregory, 9, and Michael, 8, had attended McDonogh, the only white children to go to the school with its three Negro first grade girls since Nov. 17, the third day of integration.

The brief boycott break began Friday when Thompson brought Gregory to the school. Yesterday, Michael accompanied his brother. The Thompsons said they took the boys out of a segregated school in a neighboring parish (county) because they felt the children would get a better education at McDonogh.

Jubilant segregationists whooped it up in front of the school when the news of Thompson's departure was learned. Walgreen Drug Stores, which employs Thompson as a $70-a-week assistant soda fountain manager, this morning announced Thompson has left New Orleans after requesting transfer elsewhere." The drug chain would not reveal where Thompson was going.

Pressures used against the Thompson family included an order from the landlady to move. White mothers picketed a Walgreen's store yesterday. They carried signs saying "Walgreen's favors integration."

A planned picket of one of the other 13 Walgreen stores in the city was called off today when the news broke that Thompson had called it quits.

As late as last night, Thompson had vowed to stick it out, regardless of pressure.

Assessor Aide Pay Rise Turned Down By Board

"We're breaking down the assessor's office," objected Supervisor Walter R. Castro as the Marin County Board of Supervisors by 3-2 vote yesterday turned down a pay boost asked by Assessor Bert W. Broemmel for his assistant, H. W. Johnson.

Voting to deny the raise were Supervisors J. Walter Blair and George Ludy, finance committee members who had twice recommended against the raise, and Chairman William D. Fusselman.

Castro and William Gnoss contended Johnson deserved a boost to keep pace with other department assistants.

Broemmel had proposed a move up from step 3 range 28 to the same step two ranges higher, which would change Johnson's present monthly $701 to $770.

"When we're working soon with the new budget we can consider this again," said Ludy. Fusselman agreed that on the next budget "a different principle will be followed"

Broemmel's request for two new transport "dollies" to carry card material to and from the data processing bureau was countered by instruction that Clerk George S. Jones lend the necessary equipment when he doesn't need it for election work.

NO BILL FOR NOVATO BABY

The parents of the first baby born at the new Novato General Hospital won't have to pay a cent for hospital bills.

Dr. John Siemens, managing director of the hospital which opened on Monday, said the hospital will donate its services. Novato merchants donated gifts for Michele Diane Harner, the first baby born at the hospital, who arrived at 12:38 a.m. yesterday. She is the third child for Mr. and Mrs. Rex B. Harner Jr.

Suit For False Arrest Tossed Out By Jury

Former Sheriff David Menary and two deputies, who arrested the wrong man on suspicion of rape in 1958, are not liable for damages, a Marin Superior Court jury ruled last night.

A nine-woman, three-man jury deliberated for three hours and cleared the sheriff in a civil suit for $10,000 damages brought by William Donald Johnson, 24, of San Anselmo. The jurors decided unanimously that the sheriff and his men had not committed false arrest and 9 to 3 that he had not committed false imprisonment.

The decision came after a week-long trial before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. Johnson's attorney argued that Johnson had been damaged because of false arrest and imprisonment in March, 1958.

Johnson said he had been held for 25 hours before the error was discovered. He sued Menary, Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert and Inspector Carl Sears.

The attorney for the former sheriff pointed out that the rape victim, who said she was attacked near the Fireside Cafe, "positively" identified Johnson through photographs and in a lineup.

When Johnson passed a lie test, and the woman later decided that he was the wrong man, the sheriff released Johnson.

Court Denies Mill Valleyan's Plea For Bail

Mill Valley murder suspect Luis S. Aldeguer's application for bail was denied yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Harold J. Haley set 9:30 a.m. Feb. 10 as a tentative date for a preliminary hearing. However, the case may bypass this preliminary hearing because the district attorney indicated he would present the case to the grand jury. If the grand jury indicts Aldeguer, the case goes directly into Marin Superior Court.

Aldeguer, 37, fled to Los Angeles after stabbing his wife, Ruth, and James Roger Collins Jr., 38. Collins died immediately. Mrs. Aldeguer has been released from the hospital.

Buzz Kilborn Sells San Rafael Car Service Business

Buzz Kilborn Tire, Wheel and Brake Service at 666 Irwin Street, San Rafael, has been sold to a former San Rafael service station operator and his associate.

Buyers of the business, formerly owned by Walter W. Kilborn of San Rafael, are Lytton C. Schwerin, 2 Espalda Court, San Rafael, who until last December operated the Lytton Schwerin Mobil Service at 1839 Fourth Street, and Art W. Brodie of Santa Rosa.

Brodie has been in automotive service work in Santa Rosa. He at one time resided in Marin County and was a school friend of Schwerin.

Larkspur Due Garbage Law Discussion

A proposed Larkspur garbage collection ordinance requiring residents to dispose of their garbage through a collection service will come before the city council today at 8 p.m. in city hall.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper will ask councilmen if they want to conduct a citizens' survey to get the answers to problems brought up in connection with a five-year plan he is developing for the city.

The council also will call for bids on the Doherty Drive extension project for the second time (bids received the first time were rejected because they were too high).

Education Program Pegged In Millions Given Legislature

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Department of Education today gave the legislature a proposal on public education with a multi-million-dollar price tag.

Roy E. Simpson, superintendent of public instruction, asked the money to spread out the differences between rich and poor districts, and to improve the general level of education.

Some 44 million dollars would be put up by the state, and 21 million dollars by counties. The total would be in addition to the 41-million-dollar increase for state support of public schools provided in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 1961-62 budget. In all it would boost the state subsidy to 779 million dollars.

SIMPSON'S PROGRAM

Simpson's program proposes $15 more for each elementary pupil, $26 more for each high school student and $86 more for each junior college student.

Brown's budget is only narrowly balanced, and the department offered no suggestions on how to raise the extra funds.

Simpson's major recommendations already has been introduced in the legislature with Brown's support. It calls for changing local school financing from a district-by-district to countywide basis.

SHIFT OF MONEY

The department estimated this would shift 21 million dollars from well-heeled districts —those with high tax assessments—to poorer districts throughout the state.

The report noted a difference of 7,136 per cent between the richest and poorest districts in the state at the time of the survey.

Bush Bar elementary district in Shasta County had an assessed valuation of $1,227,335 for each student as against $172 for the since-abandoned William Booth district in Sonoma County.

TAXES RANGE GIVEN

School taxes ranged from $5 per $100 assessed valuation in Bakersfield to $1.58 for Antelope Union in Mono County.

Based upon 1959-60, the department said the countywide plan would hurt 426 elementary districts, with 6.61 per cent of the state enrollment, and 67 high school districts with 31 per cent of statewide attendance.

The $15 addition to the present $234 for each elementary pupil would include $10 from the state and $5 from the countywide tax plan.

The $26 increase of the present $324 for each high school student would include $10 in state funds and $16 from countywide.

The $86 jump in the $494 for each junior college student would come entirely from the state. It would raise the state's share of jaysee support from 27 to 32 per cent.

Among other recommendations in the department's report:

Provide money incentives for longer school years and for summer school sessions.

Increase support for education of handicapped children.

Grant an additional $10 per student to cover excess costs on in-car driving training.

Seminar Cost Is Questioned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service has warned business and professional men it may not let them take tax deductions for the cost of "tours described as professional seminars."

The service said there were substantial questions as to whether some of the tours, especially those to luxury resorts and foreign countries, could be considered ordinary and necessary business expenses.

It was especially doubtful whether the cost of taking wives along was deductible, the service said in a reminder.

FOR POOR BUT SCHOLARLY

Extra College Study Subsidy Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A state subsidy of a million dollars per year to help 500 poor but scholarly college graduates through an extra year of advanced study has been proposed in the legislature.

The bill, introduced yesterday by Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville) aims at producing "leadership in the scholarly world"—namely, future college professors.

The State Scholarship Commission would award the $2,000 grants to applicants on the basis of their college record, financial need and stated intention to become professors.

The bill would create 100 such grants in 1962, and add 100 per year to a maximum of 500 in 1966. Each grant would be for one year only.

The grants would include up to $1,200 for subsistence, plus $600 for the student's family, if any.

Another Grunsky bill would add subsistence allowances of up to $800 a year for needy undergraduates now getting state scholarships.

Those grants also would start in 1962 when 3,200 undergraduates will be getting state scholarships of up to $900 a year for tuition, fees and books.

Labor Disputes Frozen Food Law Effect

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California Labor Federation says a new state regulation will let packaged food processors bilk the consumer in a multi-million dollar fraud.

Thomas L. Pitts, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO organization, said the Department of Agriculture rule permits sale of short weight packaged foods.

W. J. Kuhrt, deputy agriculture director, said the new regulation will end county-by-county differences in weight tolerances and insure the customer will not get packaged foods of "unreasonably" short weight.

The new 14-page regulation has a long supplement containing tables of numbers.

Pitts said it was intentionally made complicated to disguise its effect.

Kuhrt agreed it was complicated, but said if Pitts studied it he would discover it is fair to the consumer.

Texan Wants To Stay In Texas

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — It must have been a proud Texan who ran this ad in the local newspaper:

"Wanted to rent—three bedroom house, suburb or city, Texas preferred." The Texas-Arkansas border runs through the heart of this city.

Low-Rate Loans For Housing Needy Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Organized labor today asked the legislature to create a state agency to make low-interest housing loans to families of modest means.

People in the lowest income brackets or those displaced by slum clearance or freeway construction would get highest priority.

The bill to create a California Mortgage Authority is sponsored by Assemblyman Ronald Brooks Cameron (D-Whittier) for the AFL-CIO California Labor Federation.

The authority could accept grants of money from the state or federal government, and could borrow money by revenue bonds or notes secured by its assets.

Cameron said high interest rates put replacement housing out of reach for most people displaced by slum clearance or other government action.

"This is socially immoral," he said.

"California has a clear responsibility to take actions supplementing housing legislation with President Kennedy may obtain through Congress."

The proposed state authority would consist of nine unsalaried members appointed by the governor for four year terms. The real estate business and construction industry would be permitted one representative each.

'TERRIFIED' OF RED PERIL

Episcopal Bishop Pike Sees 'New' McCarthyism

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike says he is "personally terrified about the constant increase of the Communist peril" and is concerned also by a grassroots movement of McCarthyism.

Bishop Pike told the 111th annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of California yesterday freedom is endangered by both the radical left and the radical right.

He declared that an increase in McCarthyism lacks a leader such as the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, and:

"For this we can thank God."

About what he regards as an increase in the Communist peril, Bishop Pike asserted:

"Nation after nation they gain on their side. I am increasingly terrified also by the fact that our nation is contributing to this fact—because of our policy toward dark-skinned countries in the bad example we set as to what we really mean by our statements."

The bishop cited recent student riots against admission of two Negro students to the University of Georgia.

Butte, Mont., is called "the richest hill on earth" because of its copper mines, which produce one-sixth of all the copper mined in the world.

Mechanic Finds Job Didn't Pay

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eugene Meyers, a mechanic, bought an accident-damaged car sight unseen and went to pick it up.

He found a car, one side bashed in and a radio and fishing equipment on the back seat, just as described.

The keys fitted and he was able to drive it to a garage where he and a friend spent the rest of the day making repairs. Then the seller showed up and said it was the wrong car. A check of the license led to Edmond F. Meyer, who had reported the car stolen.

"They did a pretty good job," he said of the free repair job.

That Blood? Not Just Watermelon

TUSCUMBIA, Ala. (AP) —Marshall James Grigby of Killen, whose car was involved in a traffic accident, was terrified when he saw the other driver's head smeared with crimson.

Grigsby quickly called an ambulance, which rushed M. A. Chandler, 81 of Corinth, Miss., to a hospital. He was treated for bruises—and wiped clean of the watermelon which splattered him in the collision.

DREDGER ALMOST VANISHES

This dredger, owned by Davis Construction Co. of Novato, sprung a leak yesterday at Lowrie's Yacht Harbor on Third Street, San Rafael, and sank about six or seven feet to the bottom of the San Rafael Canal. San Rafael firemen assisted Davis Co. employees in pumping out the water and got the dredger to dry land. The motors below the deck will all have to be overhauled. (Independent-Journal photo)

New Tax Head Promises Simpler Forms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's prospective tax chief revealed today that he has started trying to simplify income tax forms to make them easier to understand and maybe a little "more palatable."

Mortimer M. Caplin, University of Virginia tax expert, made the disclosure as the Senate finance committee approved his nomination as commissioner of internal revenue.

He told the committee he already had conferred with his aides on income tax forms and accompanying instructions with a view to working out "something more palatable and understandable." He said the government should help taxpayers as much as it can.

Caplin also testified that the Internal Revenue Commission should step up its audits of tax returns without giving taxpayers what Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) described as higher blood pressure.

Caplin wryly remarked that his returns had been audited "quite recently." He referred to the fact that a tax agent was in his office checking his returns when he was notified that President John F. Kennedy had tapped him to be the new tax commissioner.

Caplin also testified that "as a citizen" he is in favor of cutting the present 27½ per cent depletion allowance granted oil interests. But he said his job will be to collect taxes, not levy them.

Jury Decides Value Of Land For Dam

Marin Municipal Water District will pay $400,000 for 1,173 acres of the Lichtenberg land needed for the new Nicasio Dam, under a settlement reached in Marin Superior Court this week.

Beverly Grey Porter, owner of the ranch, and her guardian, Jess Porter Cooley of Atherton, went to court, asking for more than a half million dollars for the land.

A jury trial before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. was in its eighth day when the water district and land owners reached a settlement Monday.

By earlier stipulation, $270,183.90 has already been paid to the owners of the land, which leaves $129,816.10 still to be paid by the water district.

The land condemned for the dam is less than half of the vast Lichtenberg ranch in Nicasio Valley.

met before he proceeds to the dock with his passengers.

A Portuguese government spokesman said in Lisbon tonight, Brazil had the right to grant political asylum to the Galvao rebels, but he said Portugal wants the ship back and thinks Galvao should be tried on charges of murder, robbery and other criminal offenses.

The spokesman said Portugal did not plan to try to extradite the Galvao men but said those responsible for murdering the Santa Maria's third officer should be tried in a Brazilian court.

The U. S. destroyer Damato docked in expectation the Santa Maria would tie up soon. U. S. Rear Adm. Allen Smith Jr., was still at sea aboard the destroyer Gearing with the destroyers Vogelsgesang and Wilson. All planned to dock when the negotiations end.

Heavy police patrols were placed around the dock where Galvao was expected to tie up to discharge the passengers, some of whom have wandered the high seas in the liner since they sailed from Lisbon Jan. 9.

HOSPITAL

it to serve the needs of the public for a general and emergency hospital . . .

"If it were a county hospital, would it have every service that we have now? Would it have the capacity for other than elderly indigent patients?"

If the county were to propose taking over San Rafael General as a full-scale county hospital, "and not just a home for indigent convalescents," directors of the non-profit foundation might be interested in discussing such a proposal, Andersen said.

He raised the possibility, also, that the foundation directors might consider a partial exchange with the county by which the foundation could acquire land in Lucas Valley to build a new general hospital.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, in a paper read to the supervisors yesterday by Chairman William D. Fusselman, gave figures indicating that event if a new county hospital were to cost the two and one-half million dollars contemplated in unsuccessful bond issue proposals, the amount could be approximated by continuing for two years the 40-cent county tax rate which has been used in the past to build up funds for the first phase of the civic center.

This would provide $2,300,000, Bruce figured

An interim temporary structure would be required for three years, he noted, along with increased use of private nursing homes.

DeLisle said today that he will attend tomorrow's inspection of the county hospital and farm with the supervisors by Fusselman's invitation. Representatives of the nursing homes will also meet there.

Players Suffers Broken Bone

Maria Martinez, 23, of 54 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, suffered a fracture of the collar bone last night at the Gate Playhouse where she was rehearsing for the play, "Between Two Thieves."

She was reported in good condition today at Presbyterian Medical Center, San Francisco.

Theater manager Les Abbott said Mrs. Martinez, who plays the part of Mary, was "flung across the stage" by George Gray of Mill Valley. She lost her footing and rolled over several times.

English Exams Given Students

About 125 incoming College of Marin students were given the English "subject A" examination in Olney Hall today.

A passing score on the examination is requisite to placement in regular freshman English classes. Students who fail to pass are required to take a course in remedial English before they are eligible to enroll in the college level course.

The "subject A" examination will be given again Feb. 9 for those who were unable to take it today.

Most of those taking the examination today were from outside Marin County, since Marin high schools do not have mid-year graduations.

Bianco Motors Names New General Manager

Bianco Motors, Inc., San Rafael automotive firm which had its beginnings in 1913 as a garage in San Anselmo, now has its third general manager in 58 years.

Leonard L. Proaps, 40 Meriam Drive, San Rafael, has become president and general manager of the Cadillac-Pontiac dealership that recently changed its status from a partnership to a corporation on the retirement of former firm member Silvio J. Ruffino, general manager since the company's founder, Emil Bianco, retired in 1955.

Proaps entered the organization in 1952 as office manager and later became assistant manager. He was previously a Sacramento resident and auditor for the State Department of Finance.

Incorporation of the firm, said Proaps, does not change its policy from that envisioned by Bianco.

Present stockholders who were partners in the company are Proaps; Anthony Brunini, vice president and service manager; Joseph H. Mello, vice president and sales manager of the Pontiac - Tempest - GMC Trucks and used car division; Emil Bettini, secretary-treasurer and Cadillac sales manager, and Reno Bosco, assistant service manager.

Bianco acquired the property now occupied by the firm at Fourth and E Streets in 1932 and moved the business there in 1934. He was the first man to obtain franchised dealerships in Marin County for the sale of Cadillacs, Pontiacs and GMC trucks.

Proaps studied accounting at Sacramento State College and was graduated from Golden Gate College in San Francisco. Mrs. Proaps, formerly Ada Bettini, was born and reared in Marin County. They were married in 1949 and have four children.

WORLD'S MOST MODERN

Electronic Computer Keeps Tab On State's Banking

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An electronic computer described by State Controller Alan Cranston as one of the most modern in the world started keeping tabs on California's bank accounts today.

Cranston said the million-dollar data processing system — under study for four years — will pay for itself in savings within five years and will save the state $350,000 a year after that.

He said the system will permit central handling at the capitol of previously scattered accounting, disbursing and record-keeping duties. Data will be fed from San Francisco and Los Angeles offices and the computing done in the capitol.

The controller's office pays out about 22 million dollars in the form of 13,000 warrants, or checks, on an average day. In addition, millions of claims and other documents must be processed.

"This incredible electronic Einstein can toss off mathematical calculations at a rate of nearly half a million a minute," Cranston said in a press statement.

He said the computer system is flexible enough to enable the controller's office to keep pace with the increasing number and complexity of state financial operations in the future.

Tittle Uncertain Of Future If 49ers Should Trade Him

By SCOTT BAILLIE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There's talk that the San Francisco 49ers may trade quarterback Y. A. Tittle to the Los Angeles Rams and the "Bald Eagle" isn't sure whether he would go for it.

"I just don't know what I'd do if I were traded," the 34-year-old Louisianan drawled today. "I've been away on vacation and just began reading in the papers about how I might figure in a deal. I just haven't taken much time to decide what I'd do, although I think I have another season left in me. I take 'em one at a time now."

Tittle, who is in the insurance business, added that he is confronted with "loads of paperwork" which makes it even harder at the moment for him to pay much attention to football.

Local sportswriters are speculating that Tittle's name will be tossed into the "out" tray along with linebacker Ed Henke, end Clyde Conner and lineman Bruce Bosley.

Hugh McElhenny is long gone, having been drafted by the Minnesota Vikings last week along with two other 49ers whom the club put onto the National League's available list to beef up the new franchise.

McElhenny indicated that he was little used in the backfield last season because of a "personality clash." He wouldn't elaborate but the typewriter-whackers think it indicates a falling out with Coach Red Hickey.

Henke, in letters written to two local papers, came right out and said that he wanted to be traded.

"I have been very unhappy the past two seasons and desire to finish out my playing career under different circumstances," penned the veteran linebacker.

Bosley, who was on the verge of quitting the club two years ago to run a muscle emporium, and Conner also have indicated they would not oppose being traded.

MORABITO SPEAKS

Vic Morabito, president of the 49ers, blasted the malcontents on Monday, saying ". . . I strongly resent what I know is an unjust reflection on Hickey's ability as a coach."

Hickey, a tough-minded fundamentalist who recently signed a three-year contract with the club when his old one still had a season to go, has said that he expects a good 1961 campaign even if there is some discontent among certain players.

The Vikings plucked McElhenny, center Karl Rubke and linebacker Clancy Osborne from a list of eight men which the club made available. The other five remain a secret. Just as much a secret now as what Tittle would do if told to play elsewhere.

Independent-Journal, Wed., February 1, 1961 20

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Red Hickey All Pro, All Business, Past Reputations Mean Nothing

HANLEY

What manner of man is Howard Hickey? All sorts of reports have been afloat since Ed Henke asked the 49er front office to trade him and Bruce Bosley and Clyde Conner said their feelings wouldn't be hurt if they also were put on the block.

The trio of football veterans spoke up after Hugh McElhenny, a nine-year veteran who once was the classiest runner in the NFL, was dealt to the Minnesota Vikings. In speaking up, Henke, Bosley and Conner did not mention the Arkansas redhead by name but it was clear they have been unhappy the past two seasons playing under him.

Their complaints did not fault Hickey's ability as a coach. They seemed to be based on "personality conflicts" although even here the complaints were vague and general without any specific incidents of clashes cited.

In all fairness to Henke, a pretty nice guy who was upset by McElhenny's trade to Minnesota, he appeared to be saying that, like all members of the 49ers team, he respected Hickey's coaching ability but couldn't get along with him. Why? Henke did not specify. But he left the impression that he felt he should be playing every game, that he was better than substitutes Hickey used for him last season.

HENKE, OF course, is entitled to his opinion, but Hickey's judgment is the last word when it comes to who plays and who doesn't play. How does Hickey base his judgments? On game films and only game films.

Even Henke acknowledged when Hickey was appointed 49er coach at the end of the 1958 season following Frankie Albert's resignation that Hickey "won't stand for any fooling around, but he's fair."

HENKE MEANT that the redhead's regime would see the last of any kind of horse play in practice and most emphatically during games. There was no secret that Hickey's appointment meant that pro football finally arrived beside the Golden Gate after being here in name only for a number of years.

Hickey is all pro and all business when it comes to football. He is not interested in reputations of past seasons but how a player is performing now. He studies the films of each game as much as 18 hours until he knows precisely what each man did on each play.

In offering McElhenny and seven other unnamed 49ers to Minnesota, Hickey, being a fair man as even Henke admitted, certainly cannot be presumed to have indulged in personalities. McElhenny is of the opinion that a "personality conflict" slowed him down the last couple of years. It wasn't any personality stuff but Mac's 31 years. Age gets the best of them and it's tough for the boys in the spotlight to admit it.

HICKEY IS a hard-nosed realist but not a whip-cracking Simon Legree.

"If asking a man to do the job he is paid to do is being tough, then I'm tough," he has said on more than one occasion. "Hard-nosed players must have (1) desire—a great competitive spirit, and (2) an almost superhuman amount of physical endurance. Those are the basic essentials pros must have. We can't teach the first and we can't endow a man with the second."

Pirates Unveil Wallace; He Scores 24 In Debut

Word around the Marin County Athletic League today was "Watch out for the Pirates!"

The warning was in reference to Coach Carl Brown's Drake High quint, winner of its last three league games but now even more potent with the eligibility of a transfer standout from St. Ignatius High. He is Bill Wallace, a 6-foot, 4½-inch star, whose basketball debut as a Pirate yesterday was a howling success as he paced Drake to a 51-48 victory over the Analy Tigers of the North Bay League in a practice contest.

Wallace's long-awaited debut attracted a crowd of 450 fans to Drake and the big guy responded beautifully by plunking 24 points through the mesh.

He'll make his Marin League debut Friday night against Redwood.

In yesterday's practice sessions around the league, Wallace was one of four players who cracked the 20-point performance as local teams enjoyed unusual success in interleague competition.

BULLDOGS WIN

San Rafael's Randy Petrini tallied 25 to lead the Bulldogs to a 53-51 victory over Napa of the NBL; Connie Hoetger scored 21 to pace Tamalpais to a 51-45 win over Washington High from San Francisco, and Rich Brear collected 20 digits in Redwood's easy 46-30 victory over San Francisco's Poly High.

Novato, meanwhile, suffered a 48-42 loss to St. Vincent's of Vallejo.

The addition of Wallace establishes the Pirates as a definite threat for the Marin title. They now have a 3-2 won-lost record, only a game behind coleaders Redwood and San Rafael with five more games to go.

Yesterday Wallace proved his value by hitting 11 of 20 field goal attempts and two charities in as many tries. He accounted for 6 of Drake's 7 first quarter points, 14 of 25 in the first half and had 20 by the end of the third quarter. He sat out portions of the third and fourth stanzas, but still had time enough to increase his total.

TOP REBOUNDER

Wallace also showed rebounding strength under the defensive boards.

Mike Bresnan was the runner-up Pirate scorer with 9.

Petrini was the big hero in San Rafael's victory. The final 2 of his 25 points came in the last 20 seconds when his swishing jump shot broke a 51-51 deadlock to kill Napa.

San Rafael enjoyed 43 per cent field goal shooting accuracy. Rich Robertson, who tallied 11 points, and Petrini each grabbed 12 rebounds.

At Tam's gym, Indian Hoetger was hotter than a Colt .45 as he hit 7 of 11 field goal tries and 7 of 8 foul shots in his 21-point spree that gave Eddie Chavez' crew a surprisingly easy 51-45 victory over Washington.

James Mitchelle added 9 points and Pete Dornbach picked off 10 rebounds as Tam broke away from a close 21-19 halftime lead to a 38-31 advantage starting the fourth quarter. Chavez was able to test various combinations in preparation for Friday night's important league game at San Rafael.

GIANTS BREEZE

Redwood had an easy time of it with visiting Poly as three Giants accounted for 40 of the team's 46 points. Brear's 20 led the way and Roger Siemens and Mike Kavanagh each contributed 10. The Pirates led all the way by quarter scores of 15-6, 25-12 and 32-22. John Whitney also turned in a nice effort for the Giants.

A slow start was blamed for Novato's loss to St. Vincent's. The Hornets dropped behind a 4-9 first quarter deficit and could never make up the gap in spite of Bob "Moe" Sparrow's 16-point and 9-rebound performance.

Friday night Coach Dick Paynter's Hornets host Marin Catholic.

Class B games yesterday: Washington 48, Tam 29; San Rafael junior varsity 44, Napa 42; Poly 45, Redwood 32; St. Vincent's 35, Novato 24.

Leading local scorers were San Rafael's Rod Monti with 18, Redwood's Grant Stephenson 13, Tam's Bill Gillingham 10, and Novato's Rusty Druba 9.

HOUSTON GETS RAIN OR SHINE SPORTS ARENA

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Harris County voters turned a bright green light on the world's first "rain or shine" baseball stadium by voting in record numbers for $22 million in bonds that will build a home for Houston's 1962 entry in the National League.

"We now must get on with our job of building the stadium," Roy Hofheinz, chairman of the executive committee on the Houston Sports Assn., said.

One formality remains. The state legislature must validate the bonds—a step considered easy.

Gabe Paul, general manager of the HSA—which holds the National League franchise—said it "will be a matter of days" before work on the plush, air-conditioned stadium actually starts. He said HSA will underwrite the first costs of construction so work can start right away.

Series Finale By Far Sports Thrill Of 1960

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The place was Pittsburgh's Forbes Field; the time, Oct. 13, 1960—late afternoon on a hazy autumn day. The score was tied at 9-9 in the ninth inning of the seventh and final game of the World Series when Bill Mazeroski, a .273 hitter, strode to the plate clutching his bat in the manner of mighty Casey, determined to to do or die.

Mazeroski did. He slammed Ralph Terry's second pitch high over the left field wall and the Pirates had won the game and the World Series fom the New York Yankees.

If there was any more thrilling occasions in sports during 1960, the nation's sports writers and broadcasters hardly know about it.

ANNUAL POLL

Voting in the annual Associated Press poll, 77 named Mazeroski's series-winning homer as the thrill of the year. Another 26 listed the final World Series game, including a series of exciting events that led up to the winning wallop.

Only 13 listed Floyd Patterson's fifth-round knockout of Ingemar Johansson to regain the world heavyweight boxing championship. Nine listed the pro football thriller between the Detroit Lions and the Baltimore Colts.

Eight picked the Olympic games as the most thrilling event of 1960 and three individual performances in the summer games drew mention; seven votes went to the victory of the U. S. Olympic hockey team over the Soviet Union in the winter games at Squaw Valley. Arnold Palmer's tingling last-round play to win the Masters and U. S. Open golf championships drew six votes.

SCATTERED VOTES

There were a few scattered votes for other exciting events, but in the final count the World Series finish drew more votes for thrill of the year than all the other events mentioned.

The 1960 World Series was a dramatic one all the way. First the Bucs went ahead, then the Yanks. Pittsburgh won twice to lead 3-2, then New York squared it with a crushing 12-0 victory.

In the final game the Pirates gained a 4-0 lead, lost it then forged ahead in the eighth inning when Hal Smith's three-run homer capped a five-run scoring burst. Then it was the Yanks turn and they scored twice in the ninth to make it 9-9 and set the stage for Mazeroski's final bit of drama.

Phil Woolpert Wants Return To Coaching

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Phil Woolpert, one of the most successful basketball coaches in the nation's history, said today he wants to return to coaching.

He quit at the University of San Francisco in November, 1959, after a back injury failed to mend.

He took a job with a vending machine company here, but today he announced his resignation, effective March 15, and said he wants to return to basketball.

Woolpert, 45, said, "I've felt like a fish out of water."

He said he has completely recovered from his back ailment.

RECORD TEAMS

Woolpert's USF teams set the national record winning streak—60 games — from December1954 to December 18, 1956. That team was led by All America Bill Russell, now a star with the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association.

Woolpert's team won two NCAA championships and he was one of the nation's leading exponents of the pressing, tough defense, ball control style of play.

Woolpert said he has received tentative offers from two or three colleges but declined to name them.

Minnesota Sells Morgan To Angels

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels today announced the acquisition of Tom "Plowboy" Morgan, a right-handed pitcher who brings the roster of the new American League baseball club to 34.

General Manager Fred Haney said Morgan, 30, was purchased from the Minnesota Twins in an outright cash deal.

Morgan, 6-foot-2 and 195 pounds, is the fourteenth Angel pitcher.

Born in nearby El Monte, he started his baseball career with Ventura of the California League in 1949. In 1951 he went to the New York Yankees, remaining there until 1956.

Since that time he has been with Kansas City, Detroit and the former Washington club—now the Minnesota Twins. Last season with Detroit and Washington he was 4-5 and had an earned run average of 4.25.

Baylor's Injury Big Factor In Pro Cage Scramble

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elgin Baylor gets a whole day to recover from a sprained ankle before playing his next National Basketball Assn. game.

That sprain could be an important factor in the race between his club, the Los Angeles Lakers, and the Detroit Pistons for second place in the league's Western Division standing.

It occurred last night—4½ minutes before the end of the third Los Angeles-Detroit game in as many nights. The Pistons won this one, played as the first half of a doubleheader in New York's Madison Square Garden, 121-112, and moved out 2½ games ahead of Los Angeles in the second-place race. The Lakers had won at home Sunday and Monday.

Baylor should be able to play against St. Louis at Philadelphia tomorrow. He scored 47 points before leaving Tuesday night's game.

In last night's other games the Boston Celtics recovered from a one-night slump and beat the St. Louis Hawks 109-103 and the Syracuse Nats thumped the punchless New York Knickerbockers 122-106.

Checking Through Giant's Player Records Is Hard On Indoor Sports

CONNOLLY

The reason his thumb and first fingers are swollen is because he has been going through the 1960 records of the San Francisco Giant players. And my uncle Mike figures he has thumbed through 28,000 pages (give or take a few thousand), of those screwy figures.

"It is a great strain on the thumb and forefinger," uncle Mike says, "and it interferes with my drinking. I haven't even been able to lace my shoes the last couple of days, much less pour out my gin without spilling it all over the table."

But it is even a more severe strain on the nerves to see Uncle Mike checking everybody's figures and trying to satisfy himself that one of the experts might be right.

"That guy on the Examiner might be right. Mungiere, I think they call him because he once had whooping cough.

"GEZ THAT GUY makes a guy want to just read the record by himself, and not have to check with anybody. How is anybody going to sneak up on a fellow who knows the dates, the times at bat, and even the day the game was played plus who the official scorer was.

"I used to think it kept my elbow limber when I thumbed through the records but now that Alvin Dark, the new manager of the Giants is a bug on figures, I'll just hang up my tools. It was good exercise, but when the managers start spending their time doing it, I'm going to quit. I liked to exercise my elbow by lifting the glass. But since managers also are IBM guys, I'm quitting."

"Just like there is a way to jiggle the marble machines and make them run up a big score, so can an IBM guy do it with averages.

"These 'creeping jeeper' average guys seem to jiggle just right and no matter how I figure I can't dispute their figures. So the heck with trying to reason with averages. From now on it is going to be just plain, fancy, speculative thinking and to heck with the figures."

I GET QUITE a kick out of the response ball players make to the remarks of their bosses. For instance, Sam Jones didn't like the idea manager Alvin Dark wanted him to be a relief pitcher. Nor did Jack Sanford.

And now comes along Stu Miller, the butterfly thrower on the staff to say he hopes Dark means it when he says Miller is to be a starting pitcher.

One of these days a reporter is going to find out that no matter what he says or whom he quotes, the ball player won't ever admit he made that particular remark.

"Gez," they say, "the guy quoted me wrong. He misunderstood what I meant."

TO MISUNDERSTAND a ball player is easy. Most of them can't remember what they said five minutes after they said it. All they can do is deny it.

To the average sports observer, it may not mean a thing.

But to somebody who has been fiddling around with sports for 40 years, the decision of the L.A. Chargers to move to San Diego is something.

It may mean that sport fans down south are saturated with pro football and can't support two teams.

And if they can't support two football teams, how in heck do they expect to support two baseball teams.

I WOULDN'T BET a dime on the two team situation in L.A. going over. It hasn't in other big cities and L.A. is strictly an average run of the mine town.

For a year or two the fans might console themselves by watching a few of the big league stars in the American League. But that is bound to fade. And to have one club will be the order of things in L.A. or for that matter, in any other big city.

Get ready to move the franchise L.A., and I mean the American League franchise.

Golf Too Easy: Cup Too Big

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — George Schneiter, former PGA tournament and one-time touring pro, said today that the game of golf is too easy—and that the way to make it tougher is to reduce the size of the cups on the greens.

"I know this proposal will bring howls of protest," said Schneiter, now a semi-retired Montana moneybags. "But I hear all this talk about making golf cups bigger to speed up the play. I think that's going in the wrong direction. I believe the day will come when the size of the cups will be cut from the present standard of four and one-half inches to a maximum of three inches."

HAS MERIT

From Maine to Florida and Minnesota to California there will be bitter denunciations of the proposal—but it does have merit. Schneiter explains it this way:

"The compression on golf balls has been standardized and the pros and amateurs alike still hit the ball out of sight. The greens are as smooth as glass. This makes the courses too easy for most of the better players.

"Now, you can't extend the size of the courses. In fact, many are pressed for space as it is. So reducing the size of the cup is the logical solution.

PENALIZE PUTTER

"I realize this is going to penalize the so-called 'bold putter. Most of the professionals these days go for the back of the cup and if they go past five or six feet they don't care because they can knock it in the large hole coming back. A smaller cup would make them more cautious on their long putts. They would make sure they would be within a foot or 18 inches."

Schneiter claims that Ben Hogan falls into the category of the cautious putter these days.

"If we had had a three-inch cup in play the past 10 years Hogan would have won the National Open six times by now," said Schneiter.

Al Balding, top-notch Canadian pro, was asked what he thought of the idea.

"Just what we need," he snapped. "Something to slow up the game."

Hamilton AFB To Host Invitational Boxing Fete

Hamilton Air Force Base will be host Feb. 7-10 to an invitational tournament which will put Marines, Army, Navy and Air Force sluggers in the ring.

Hamilton hopes will be pinned on top ranking boxers like Theodore Lawrence, light welter, and heavyweight Fred Lewis, winners last year in the All Air Force Tournament. Middleweight Dean Harrison was twice winner of the Air Force and interservice titles. Ralph McCoy, a winner in the San Francisco Golden Gloves Tournament, and California State AAU titlist last year, will again be shooting for welter honors.

Featherweight Alred Pena, selected as last year's most outstanding prospect among Air Force boxers, and middleweight Alfred Polaco, winner of last year's invitational tourney, also will be on hand.

Teams competing in the tournament will come from Camp Pendleton with Marine boxers; the 12th Naval District, with headquarters in San Francisco, and Army teams from Fort Lewis, Wash., and the Presidio. Other Air Force teams competing will be from Mather and Travis Air Force Bases.

During April Hamilton also will be the scene of the World Wide Air Force Tournament and the World Wide All-Service matches.

West Coast Athletic Conference basketball teams return to league action tonight as Loyola invades the University of San Francisco and Pepperdine goes at St. Mary's.

USF is tied with Santa Clara for the loop's top spot, with each unbeaten after two starts. USF is 10-7 overall. Loyola is 2-1 in league play, 9-7 overall. St. Mary's is 1-1 and 11-4, while Pepperdine has yet to win in the WCAC after three starts and is 6-10 for the season.

In other games involving northern California teams, Fresno State journeys to Gonzaga in Spokane and San Francisco State goes to San Fernando State.

Fresno is 11-6 so far in all games; S.F. State 6-10.

Last night, host Sacramento State dumped Chico State, 76-56, in a non-league game pitting Far Western Conference opponents, and traveling University of Pacific was blown back out of Texas by Houston, 101-66.

Ken Stanley of Pacific, rated the eighth best scorer in the nation last week, popped 29 points but was outdone by Houston's Gary Phillips, who hit for 35. Ted Luckenbill had 24 for the Texans.

Houston had a torrid first half from the floor, hitting for 55.9 per cent, good for a 50-30 halftime lead. The winning Cougars finished with a 48.6 all-game floor percentage.

San Rafael Baptists Win In Cage League

Jess Nordman and Ralph Newton paced the San Rafael First Baptist Church to a 40-30 victory over the San Anselmo First Baptists last night in the San Rafael Recreation Department's "Fun Basketball League." Nordman tallied 13 points and Newton 10.

S.R. Cadets Down Petaluma Quintet

Pete Jackson scored 18 points yesterday to lead San Rafael Military Academy's Cadets to a 49-39 victory over St. Vincent's of Petaluma in Bay Counties Athletic League basketball competition.

The win put the Cadets over the .500 mark with their fourth victory against three setbacks in league play.

Assisting Jackson in the point parade were Jerry Pasqualo with 11, Terry Hoffman 9 and John Rolleri 8.

Drake's Johnson Among Top Scorers

Statistics of leading Marin County Athletic League basketball scorers, published in Monday's Independent-Journal, erroneously omitted Drake High's Sam Johnson.

The Drake star, with 47 points in five games, deserves mention as the fifth leading scorer in the league.

Lindy McDaniel, St. Louis relief pitcher, took part in three shutouts in games started last year by other Cardinal pitchers.

Master Plan For Novato On Agenda

Members of eight citizens' committees, city planning commission and city officals will meet for the first time tonight to discuss a master plan for Novato.

Sixty-eight persons were appointed last week to committees which will advise the planning commission during formulation of a plan. The public meeting will begin at 8 o'clock tonight in the Novato High School library.

Meetings will continue each Wednesday at the high school, probably lasting until 11:30 p.m., preliminary estimates show.

The planning commission will begin by looking at the area to be studied and its population; continue to learn the process of formulating a master plan, study the central business district and attempt to find ways to put their business plans into effect.

At the completion of study of the business side of the master plan, commission members are expected to submit a report to the city council, then continue to consider residential development, land use for schools, recreation and a possible government center, conservation, community design, streets and highways.

The study is being made with the aid of the county planning staff, who will present an outline of planning views at each meeting for consideration of the city commission. Novato now operates under a county-executed master plan. Final decision on a city plan must come from the city council, after two public hearings.

Panel To Discuss Teaching On Reds

Two high school teachers and two parents will discuss the question, "Should we teach about Communism in our public schools?" from 9 to 10 a.m., tomorrow on the radio station KTIM "Sounding Board" program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer.

Panelists include William Hecomovich, teacher of "Problems of American Democracy" at Sir Francis Drake High School; John Curtin, head of social studies at San Rafael High School; Mrs. J. Lee Chaille of San Anselmo, and Fred DuPuis of Tiburon.

Questions phoned in by listeners will be directed to the panelists. The program will be heard Sunday at 12:30 p.m. from a tape recording.

Penny Saving Meals Are Tasty With Dairy Foods As Mainstay

Penny Saving Meals can be tasty and elegant with delicious dairy foods as the mainstay. Versatile dairy foods can be featured throughout your menu in the entree, salad and dessert. This colorful menu is a good example of how dairy foods, each with excitingly different flavors, make it possible to add variety to meals.

Economical dairy foods are good to the last delightful bite. They give you full value . . . moneywise as well as timewise. There is no waste to them and they require little preparation . . . take little of your time to serve. Use them as is, as a garnish or include them as a part of the recipe.

HERBED VEAL STEW WITH RICE

4 Servings

- 1 lb. veal shoulder, cubed
- 1 medium onion, quartered
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- ¼ teaspoon thyme
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups water
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup (2 oz. can) mushroom stems and pieces with liquor
- ¼ cup minced onion
- ¼ cup flour
- 1½ cups meat broth and water
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- Hot buttered rice
- Paprika

In large saucepan add meat, onion, parsley, thyme, bay leaves, salt and pepper to water. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer until tender, about 1½ hours. Remove bay leaves. Pour off broth; measure and add water if necessary to make 1½ cups. Set aside meat in pan. In small saucepan melt butter. Add mushrooms, liquor and onion; simmer until onion is tender. Remove from heat; blend in flour to form a smooth paste. Add liquid gradually to flour mixture. Then cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add cheese; continue cooking until cheese is melted. Pour over meat in large saucepan; heat to serving temperature. Spoon rice in ring around edge of serving platter; fill center of ring with meat mixture. Garnish with paprika; serve immediately.

HONEY-BUTTERED CARROTS

4 Servings

- 15 medium size carrots, cut into sticks
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons strained honey
- Dash of marjoram

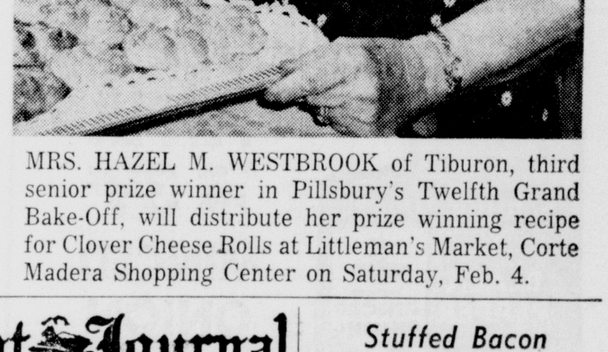
In tightly covered saucepan cook carrots in small amount of boiling, salted water until partially tender; drain. Add butter, honey and marjoram; cover and cook over medium heat until tender.

MAPLE-NUT PARFAITS

4 Servings

- 1 pint vanilla ice cream
- ⅓ cup maple syrup
- 4 teaspoons chopped salted peanuts

Alternate layers of vanilla ice cream and maple syrup in parfait glasses ending with ice cream. Top each parfait with chopped nuts. Serve immediately or hold in freezer until serving time.



MRS. HAZEL M. WESTBROOK of Tiburon, third senior prize winner in Pillsbury's Twelfth Grand Bake-Off, will distribute her prize winning recipe for Clover Cheese Rolls at Littleman's Market, Corte Madera Shopping Center on Saturday, Feb. 4.

Liver Tasty With Cheese Topping

It's common knowledge these days that liver is one of the most nutritious foods. Nutritionists emphasize the importance of serving this variety meat often.

Growing youngsters especially need liver, although it may not be one of their favorite meats. By varying the methods of preparation, they will surely come to the table more eagerly.

Liver Bacon Fromage is a tasty liver variation with a topping of bacon and grated cheese. A touch of garlic salt is added to season.

Reba Staggs, home economist, states that liver is an excellent source of high quality protein, Vitamin A, riboflavin, niacin, iron, phosphorus, and other essential vitamins and minerals.

Such top food value at an economy price is reason enough for serving liver frequently. And it's good eating, too!

LIVER AND BACON FROMAGE

- 4 slices bacon
- 1 pound beef liver, sliced 1-inch thick
- 3 tablespoons flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup grated American cheese

Cook bacon until crisp. Remove from frying-pan and drain on absorbent paper. Break into small pieces. Mix together flour, salt, garlic salt and pepper. Dredge liver in seasoned flour. Sprinkle any remaining flour over liver. Brown slowly on both sides in bacon drippings. Sprinkle grated chees and bacon pieces on liver. When cheese is slightly melted, remove liver to a hot platter and serve immediately. 4 servings.

FRIDAY IS "M-Day" for the hundreds of pretty little girls in Marin Council of Camp Fire Girls. These pert young ladies will begin on that day selling again the chocolate-covered mints. Selling Mayor of San Rafael John F. McInnis a box are, from left, Sandy Bolt and daughter, Susan McInnis, of the Tawanah Camp Fire Girls. The two girls sold over 50 boxes of mints last year. Sausage, Ham Show Versatility Of Pork Sausage links are only one of the many types of sausage on the market. Some varieties have been cured and require no further cooking.

The Pork Partners are completed with a sweet and spicy sauce of peaches accented with cloves and cinnamon.

PORK PARTNERS

- 1 pound pork sausage links
- 8 slices "boiled" ham
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 can (16 ounces) sliced peaches, drained
- 1 cup peach juice
- ½ teaspoon lemon juice

Place sausage links and water in cold frying-pan. Cover tightly and cook slowly 5 minutes. Remove cover. Pour off drippings and brown links. Place two links side by side on each ham slice and roll like a jelly roll. Fasten with wooden picks. Mix cornstarch, cloves, cinnamon and peach juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add peaches and lemon juice and cook until heated through. Pour half the peach mixture in the bottom of a greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking dish. Then add the eight ham-sausage rolls. Top with remaining peach mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. 8 servings.

Two different kinds of pork combine as partners to show the wide variety of ways the homemaker can find pork on the market. This dish, featuring a ready-to-serve meat and sausage, would be tasty for an extra-special winter lunch.

"Boiled" ham has been processed and often sliced before it reaches the meat department where you shop. The many kinds of ready-to-serve meats may be served hot or cold.

Sausage links are made from fresh pork cuts that have been ground and seasoned with salt, pepper and sage. Reba Staggs, meat cookery expert, reminds homemakers that sausage links and patties must be cooked thoroughly which brings out their delicious flavor.

The high school bond issue will be the subject of the discussion by Mrs. Harriet Crabb, dean of girls; Miles McColm, Spanish teacher and counselor, and Merill Convis, counselor. Moderator will be Frank A. Cassou, business director for the Tamalpais High School District.

Founders' Day will also be marked at the meeting with a special ceremony for all past presidents. A P-TA Honorary Life Membership will be given.

Decorations and refreshments will also carry out the Founders' Day theme. Hostesses are fourth and fifth grade mothers.

Golden Star Meeting

Mrs. John Robertson, district deputy president, District 61 Rebekah Assembly of California will conduct a school of instruction for new officers at the meeting of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the IOOF Temple, San Rafael. Mrs. Clifford Winegarden, new noble grand, will preside at the meeting. Mrs. Ralph Stephenson will be chairman.

A Glamorous Crowd At Symphony Ball

Snow covered evergreen boughs blushed with shocking pink dahilias, snow flake mobiles swayed with the rhythm of the red coated band and the gay, glamorous crowd boasted beautifully gowned women at the mid-winter Symphony Ball. The much anticipated Symphony Guild of Marin event took place last Saturday at the Meadow Club.

Checking reservations with husband Mozart Kaufman was Lois, lovely in a lemon yellow sari; receiving guests were the Barry Bolands, Alice chose a rose toned print with matching coat; the Sandor Salgos (Priscilla in apricot) and ball chairman Bettye Ferguson (muted lilac)

Friends and members of the Guild came across the bridges and over freeways to join country dwellers for the annual party that began with cocktails. The Bernhardt Poetzs hosted the John Morettos from San Mateo and the Clyde Seaveys and Theodore Schmidts from San Francisco.

Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Saloman entertained at their Kent-Woodlands home first. Seen arriving with them were Dr. and Mrs. Judson Mackby, Dr. and Mrs. Gerston Jacobs, Dr. and Mrs. H.L. Kristal, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mills, the Henry Ritters and the Richard Hughes.

The sparkling, rustling, lovely gowns were a handsome contrast to the mens black tuxedos. There were many long formals . . a hoop skirted royal and pale blue gown was the choice of Mrs. William Morrissey; Rose (Mrs. Bernard) O'Kane chose an Oleg Cassini slim line design of flame red satin and Lolly (Mrs. Harold) Roberts wore ming blue chiffon.

Glimpsed at dinner were the Dr. William Pembertons, Oma created the artistic and very effective decorations that delighted all. The tables glowed with pink tapers surrounded with rose and magenta blossoms. The John Lesoines (Florence in pink peau de soie) table included the Harrison Leppos, the William Dawsons and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Crawford (Ora in pale blue satin). The Robert Soderbloms, the Harry Daltons and daughter Janet Dalton and Barry Davidson dined together. Janet was a lucky award winner later in the evening. The Roger Deweys and Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Hall made a foursome.

Later on couples met and exchanged dances under the shadows of the enormous rhododendron bushes on either side of the orchestra. The Mel Freemans (Jean in a long length gown of black streaked with silver) and the Herbert Dustins (Mrs. Dustin in a floor length rose satin; the Harold Schuttes and Benton Tulleys (Faye in a sari, tangerine tint); busy awards chairman Janice (Mrs. G. Edward) French; and the William Pences (Marie in bright red, Janice in daffodil yellow chiffon; the Walter Abrahams (Carol in deep purple) and the Paul Klinsmiths (Lucille's short length satin gown in shades of soft lilac).

Probert Motors of Larkspur has donated the use of its showroom for the event. Hours for the sale will be 9-5 tomorrow, 9-9 on Friday and 9-1 on Saturday.

Cupid's Cards Contain Gifts

NEW YORK (UPI)—There are gifts as well as greetings on many Valentines for the younger set this year.

The gifts, in the form of presents included on Valentines for boys and girls, range all the way from real cosmetics for girls to a treasure map game for boys.

The array of Cupid's greetings for girls include "Valerie, the Queen of Valentines," a paper doll with matching clothing items; a miniature locket; a sewing card which pictures a doll and contains a cloth apron and the thread with which to sew it on; and the makeup kit of real powder and lipstick.

For boys there's an Indian village with tepees and cut out squaws, braves and chiefs to be assembled in the village; a self-erasing slate on which to write notes; and a musical "spinner button" to be threaded on a string.

There are also special cards for both boys and girls to color, and other cards which contain their own crayons. Another popular juvenile card is a "Valentine TV set" card which contains 32 separate cartoon panels that may be rotated on the screen of the make-believe TV set.

Vallecito P-TA To Hear Consultant

Vallecito Junior High School in Terra Linda will hold a parent-teachers meeting at the school on Monday, Feb. 6 at 8 p.m.

To paraphrase the reknown Bobby Burns, would it not be wonderful to see ourselves as our children see us . . . especially those in the seventh and eighth grades. This is what the program committee hopes to accomplish in presenting Al Carr, Dixie School district guidance consultant to the regular P-TA meeting. Carr will explain why your junior teenager does certain things and why you should be doing certain things for and with this junior adult of yours.

The business session will be involved with the memberships approval of the new set of by-laws which go with joining P-TA.

Square Dance Class

The Hay Balers, with Milt Adams calling, are starting a beginners class in square dancing tonight at Star Hall in San Anselmo. The class will meet from 7 to 9. All wishing to attend are asked to notify Duane Wallace of Fairfax or Mrs. Lewis Champion of San Anselmo.

Meeting for the first time since college days at the University of Minnesota are, from left, Mesdames M. W. Garratt Jr. of San Mateo and E. C. Sargent Jr. of San Rafael. The two dined in the Redwood Room of San Francisco's Clift Hotel.

Mrs. Rosthy, who has lived in this country for the past year and a half, is the mother of the well known writer, Maria Molnar.

Reservations are limited, for the groups will necessarily be small. Mrs. Thomas Mannell of Sausalito is in charge of the program and is presently accepting reservations and may be contacted for further information.

Planning is now in the final stages for the "Roaring Twenty Follies" and dance to be given by Blessed Sacrament Parish on Saturday evening, Feb. 11.

Nearly 250 couples will meet for refreshments at 8 p.m. at the parish hall in Santa Venetia, and then at 9 o'clock the Follies will be presented. This revue will consist of 12 acts of dances, songs and an authentic fashion show of the era. Terrence Heavey will preside as master of ceremonies. The show is being presented by members of the Junior Social Service Auxiliary and choreography is under the direction of the Arthur Murray Dance Studio of San Rafael. Chairman of the event is Mrs. Donald McCarthy of Marinwood.

Guests will enter through a fringed doorway into a "hideaway" of dim lights and beaded lampshades to create the mood of the fabulous flapper era. A life sized figure of th familiar racoon-coated collegian will dominate a vivid, paneled screen. In charge of decorations are Mesdames Al Paczkowski and Dominic Basile. Following the performance, a dance will be held with the music of an orchestra.

Marin Kappas Set Date For Country Auction

Feb. 8 is the date set by Marin Kappa Gamma alumnae for a repeat of their country auction which proved so successful last year.

Hosting the affair will be Mrs. Louis Przetak of Northbridge, assisted by Mesdames John McLucas and Joseph Barish.

Members are asked to bring white elephants, baked goods, plants, clothing, and other items which can be auctioned off during the evening. Those who cannot attend are urged to leave items in advance of the Wednesday date. Serving again as auctioneer will be Mrs. Barbara Hock.

Proceeds from the auction will further the fraternity's national scholarship program, which aids women both here and abroad in many phases of educational endeavor.

The Kappas' January meeting was a Dollar Dessert Bridge held at the Grant Robbins' home in Mill Valley. Proceeds from this affair also will go toward philanthropic work.

Mrs. Vaughan Hill, president of the group, extends a special invitation to new members in the area to attend the meetings and become acquainted. Advance reservations for the February event may be made with Mrs. Przetak.

Visit From Foreign Student Paid Terra Linda Brownies

A visit from a foreign student, service projects, trips and badge requirements were January activities in several of Marin's Girl Scout troops.

Kalyani Pandya, a student at the University of California, visited Terra Linda Brownie Troop 248 this week. Kalyani explained the customs of her native India and showed slides of it. She also taught an Indian dance to the third and fourth graders. They recently completed scrap books and rag dolls which were made for the Sonoma State Hospital. Leaders of the Hartzell School Brownie Scouts are Mesdames Lafay Stapp, William Guthrie and Michael McNally.

Mill Valley Brownie Troop 78 went across the Golden Gate to visit the Morrison Planetarium in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park. With their leader, Mrs. Dino Esposti, they also enjoyed a tour of the Mill Valley Fire Station with Fireman Willis Cline.

A way to use last season's Christmas cards has been found by Girl Scout Troop 154. The fifth graders, who attend Neil Cummins School, cut pictures from the cards and sent them to a children's hospital. They included scrap books so that the hospitalized children can paste the pictures themselves. Leaders of the Corte Madera Intermediate Scouts are Mesdames Ralph Heggelund, A. E. Lubamersky, Vernon Lang and Robert Brinton.

During January, the seventh and eighth grade members of Novato Troop 326 have been keeping personal good grooming charts as part of the requirements for the Good Grooming Badge, with Susan Tandy receiving an award for having the best record. Mrs. Louis Russell demonstrated a manicure and showed the girls the proper way to care for their nails.

The girls also accompanied Senior Scout Troop 345 n their monthly visit to Sonoma State Hospital, where they sponsor a ward of 64 girls. With their leader, Mrs. Earl Stewart, the 40 Intermediate Scouts are planning a tour of the new Novato Hospital, a Girl Scout-Boy Scout dance, a snow trip and a Mothers' Tea in the future.

Newly-elected troop officers are Cynthia Dunn, president; Kathy Phillips, vice president; Vivian Morse, secretary, and Cheri Klopotek, treasurer.

Hobart-Rouder Rites Held In San Anselmo

White chrysanthemums and magnolia leaves were at the altar of the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo for the recent wedding of Susan Gail Rouder of Fairfax and James Calvin Hobart of Kentfield.

Rev. Robert Clapham officiated for the 8 o'clock double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rouder of Fairfax. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hobart of Kentfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yeager of Kentfield, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, sang the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white peau de soie fashioned with Sabrina neckline, long sleeves. The skirt was accented with a panel of Chantilly lace. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a bandeau of lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Anna Harris of Los Angeles was matron of honor for her sister and bridesmaids were Margo Merle of San Anselmo and three Alpha Chi Omega sorority sisters of the bride's, Sally Lilleston of Mill Valley; Sue McFadden, Whittier, and Jan Dalton of Greenbrae. They were gowned in white satin sheaths and had white satin bandeaux trimmed with seed pearls and circular veils. They carried white candles entwined with red roses. Little Carrey Hobart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robin Hobart of Tiburon, wore a white organdy dress trimmed with satin roses. She carried a basket of red roses.

Steven Yeager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yeager of Kentfield was ringbearer.

Allen McIver of Fairfax was best man. Ushering guests to their seats were Robin Hobart of Tiburon, Kent McIver of Kentfield; Cott Hobart of Berkeley and Hobart Yeager of Kentfield.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rouder wore a Dior blue brocade over beige satin sheath with matching accessories. She had an orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a royal blue chiffon print with matching accessories and white orchid corsage.

A reception for 250 guests followed the ceremony at the Sausalito Yacht Club. Manzanita and white camellias were carried out in arrangements.

For the wedding trip to the Mt. Shasta ski area, the bride wore a knit suit.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High school and will graduate this June from the University of California. She is affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and is a national representative on the YWCA Cabinet at U.C.

The bridegroom was graduated from Drake High School and attended College of Marin. He has just completed four years service in the U.S. Navy and plans to attend U.C. He is the brother of Mrs. Ray Yeager of Kentfield; Robin Hobart of Tiburon and Cott Hobart of Berkeley. Mrs. William Hofdy of Kentfield is his grandmother.

The newlyweds will reside in Berkeley.

Exciting Pins

Big, exciting pins in dimensional interpretations of flowers, birds, fish and abstracts are as elegant as they are whimsical. Dimension is the important point in spring designs. The flat, plain, simple pin dies on the calm clothes. The dimensional look includes jutting stems on giant lilies, in unfolding leaves, in beautiful roses, fish that bubble, or stones in raised settings.

Presbyterian Guild To Study Booklet

The Women's Guild of the San Anselmo First Presbyterian church will meet on Thursday, Feb. 9 for a glimpse of the new study booklet "In Him Was Life," a study of the gospel of John. Rev. Robert Clapham will speak and lead the afternoon's discussion.

A 12 o'clock luncheon served by Circle 2 will precede the program. Special music will be provided.

Flip Their Lids

New hats flip their lids. The turned-up brims can be of any size and the upturn at any point, reports Women's Wear Daily. One example of a tiny size flip on a silky straw suit hat in white with a self-tassel marking the profile dip—a flipped creation.

Homebuyers Want More Bedrooms

HAYWARD (UPI)—Home buyers of the 1960's are more interested in bedrooms than in pushbutton kitchens.

This is a finding of the Branden Construction Co., which built nearly 1,000 homes in Northern California last year after putting up thousands in the 1950's.

In a recent year-end report to the National Homebuilders Association Branden said home buyers in the late 1940's and 1950's were interested mainly in fancy kitchens with built-in appliances. Now a trend to more bedrooms seems to be starting.

"The demand for more bedrooms is spearheaded by veterans of the Korean conflict who are buying 62 per cent of the GI home production of the Branden firm in Northern California," a company spokesman said.

Buyers want a more elaborate master bedroom suite with built-in bath as a retreat to "get away from it all," according to the report.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 1, the 32nd day of the year with 333 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1790, the Supreme Court held its first session . . . meeting in the Royal Exchange Building in New York City.

In 1861, Texas voted to secede from the Union.

In 1892, Mrs. William Astor gave a ball at her New York town house — limited to 400 guests. It marked the beginning of the social term, "the four hundred."

In 1933, Adolf Hitler, the new chancellor of Germany, issued an order dissolving the Reichstag.

In 1956, Autherine Lucy, 26-year-old student, became the first Negro admitted to the University of Alabama on a federal court order.

A thought for today: American writer James Russell Lowell said: "Folks never understand the folks they hate."

INCOME TAX FACTS

Report Of Expenses Required By Some

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Employees reimbursed expenses.

An employee who is not required to account to his employer (or even though required does not account) must report on his return the total amounts of expenses for travel, transportation, entertainment and other purposes which he incurs under a reimbursement or other arrangement with his employer. Any allowance to the employee in excess of his expenses must be included in the employees income.

Peter J. Wikel

An employee who is required to account to his employer for his expenses and does so account, will not ordinarily be called upon to substantiate expense account information unless:

1. His expenses exceed the total of the amounts charged to his employer and he claims a deduction on his return for such excess.

2. He is related to his employer or is employed by a company in which he or his family owns more than 50 per cent of the stock.

3. It is determined that the procedures used by the employer in accounting for these expenses are not adequate.

The rules for employee's expenses are ever more complicated and every employee's expense deduction is due for a more thorough going over than ever before. If you have expenses for travel, entertainment, etc., then you should have and keep accurate records to back up every item you deduct on your tax return.

Form 2106 is available at the nearest office of the Internal Revenue Service to help in reporting reimbursed expenses.

Work Watcher Gets A Chair

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Morning after morning for months, rain or shine, an elderly man put a loaf of bread under his arm and walked 14 blocks to watch a construction project.

He smiled but spoke to no one because he didn't know their language. Workmen on the project noticed the old man with the gray mustache as he watched them.

"Let's build him a chair," one suggested.

They did, and then Thomas Stavredes, nearing 90, watched the completion of his church, the Saints Thomas and Helen Greek Orthodox Church, in comfort. He was once a carpenter himself in the little port town of Piraeus in Greece.

Plan For Building Would Be Better Than More Polls

Supervisor William Fusselman bought space in our newspaper (a long-time habit of his, which we applaud and which he finds gets exactly what he wants to say out to the people of Marin) to intimate a bias on our part in the civic center poll we recently conducted.

"I have continually urged that the people be allowed to speak through an unbiased ballot," Fusselman stated. He proposes that unspecified "private sources" arrange for paying the cost of a poll "following the procedure of absentee ballot voting."

We resent his implication that our poll was biased., particularly so because after his suggestion that we conduct such a poll we took particular pains in seeing to it that there was no bias in the operation of the poll.

Key to an unbiased response is a fair question. By the phrasing of the question it is possible to almost control the results.

A question, for example, could stress merely the estimated total cost of the completed civic center, rather than the units under consideration. It could stress the tax rate needed for pay-as-you-go, or the interest added to the cost by bond issue. Inclusion or neglect of one or all of these facts alone could weight a question toward a desired answer.

It was for that reason that we spent considerable time working on the question to make it fair. We made it simple and straight-forward; the question was clear, we believe, and it truly represented the issue.

After the ballot was printed, we had nothing more to do with it. It was counted and tallied by a certified public accountant and the results reported to the Board of Supervisors.

Even so, we did not claim that this was a vote of the people. We reported its results merely as a poll, one indication of the feeling of the people of Marin, more than 9,000 of them.

Had the vote been 6 to 4 or 3 to 2, we wouldn't have even considered it important because of obvious deficiencies in the sampling. But when the poll was so overwhelmingly one-sided, we can't see it as anything but a true representation of the feelings of those people at that time. Certainly we reject the implication that it was a poll biased by us.

We don't know what Mr. Fusselman plans to ask in his poll. We don't know whether Mr. Fusselman would frame the question or questions, or whether someone else would.

Frankly, we'd rather see Mr. Fusselman return to an earlier suggestion of his that the supervisors re-examine the overall capital building needs of the county and set up a priority list for their construction. This would be more helpful to the county than conducting a series of polls to indicate decisions which the elected administrators of the county, the supervisors, should be making for themselves.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

NO ACCIDENTS SINCE 1885

A model of safety in today's high speed age is a French doctor who has been driving since 1885. In that year the physician, now 94, bought the first DeDion-Bouton automobile in Alsace and has been touring the countryside without an accident ever since.

"For the first 50 years," he told reporters, "there wasn't enough traffic on the roads to think about accidents."

With so many people now rushing here and there both on foot and on the highways, the chances for crashes are necessarily high.

An even more alarming danger of our accelerated pace, however, is that it may tend to blur the most important objective of man's pilgrimage on earth—the glory of God and the welfare of our fellow men.

Whether you travel on foot or on horseback, be sure to take time out regularly to rethink your purpose in the world. Put first things first, and speed will be a blessing instead of a hindrance.

"I therefore so run, not as at an uncertainty; I so fight as one beating the air."
(1 Corinthians 9:26)

Speed us on, O Lord of all, to our heavenly goal amid the distractions of our busy life.

Complaint Of The Weary Bachelor —He Doesn't Harm Husbands

NEW YORK (AP) — Monologue in a psychiatrist's office:

"No, doc. I don't need any deep analysis. I just got a problem I want to get off my chest.

"Let me just stretch out on this couch and be comfortable while I tell you. It won't take long.

"My problem is about women—or rather wives. I want to know why all my friends' wives hate me.

"Maybe I'd better start at the beginning.

"My name is Charlie. I am 46 years old and a bachelor. I am a very happy bachelor, too, except for one thing. My friends' wives are all mad at me.

"This grieves me very much. It has for years — because there doesn't seem to be anything I can do about it.

"I liked the first lady I ever met—my mother — and I've liked every woman I ever met since then. I never met a woman I couldn't find a reason for liking.

"I light their cigarettes for them at cocktail parties. I help them through revolving doors. On muddy or snowy days I stand aside for a lady I have never even met, and let her have the taxi that stopped for me.

"I send them flowers on their birthdays. I'm always happy to show up and bail them out if they unexpectedly need an extra man at dinner. I've even taken their kids to the dentist so they could go to a matinee.

"But still they hate me. You know why, doc? I'll tell you.

"Because they think I am a bad influence on their husbands. Every time a married man in the circle of my acquaintances takes it into his head to spend a night on the town, his wife says when he comes home, 'So, you've been out with good-old-Charlie again! What has he been leading you into now?'

"The truth is, of course, I never even saw the bum on the night in question—or any other night when he was footloose.

"As I say, Doc, I have spent my life studying women. But there's one thing I still can't understand.

"Where do wives get this strange, mixed-up loyalty? Why do they always think someone else is leading their dumb husband astray?

"Why don't they blame him? He's the one. Why is it no wife will ever face this truth?"

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"It's very simple, every business cycle has a readjustment period, sometimes called a recession, which necessitates cutbacks to stabilize inventories. Tax cuts are then imposed to stimulate the economy . . . if that doesn't work, we march on Washington . . . !"

What Is Fusselman Stand On Housing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

At a recent board of supervisors meeting when the so-called "Fair Housing Ordinance" was discussed and voted upon, William Fusselman was quoted by your reporter as saying that he planned to take extensive space in your columns, to explain his stand and vote on this issue.

I haven't seen it. Perhaps I missed it. Did Mr. Fusselman explain his stand and vote on this issue?

Death Penalty Curbs Fear

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Let the People Read for Themselves:

If Douglas A. Land could understand what he reads in the first part of the 18th chapter of Matthew, it would be obvious to him that Christ was talking of two different meanings. From the 1st to the 14th verses, Christ was talking of a child (or children), and anyone with common sense knows that a child is incapable of sin.

True, a child is conceived in sin, but as the Catholics and the courts believe, a child is innocent until he reaches the Age of Reason, which is seven.

That poor little girl was only six and to have a husband and wife deliberately take her for immoral purposes and finally murder should certainly call for the "hanging tree."

Without the death penalty, we would all be living in fear of being murdered at any time.

2 Approaches To Fairfax Schools

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have two quite separate, but not opposite, approaches to the proposed increase in the maximum tax rate in the Fairfax School District.

It might be presumed that a childless widow whose taxes have been appreciably increased over the past few years, would oppose such a measure. But my friends have children whom I love, and it is worth it to me to do what I can to see that they have the best possible chance.

Now, speaking as a licensed real estate broker, I shall don my materialistic hat. Fairfax admittedly has as lovely a setting and climate as can be found anywhere in the county.

BUT:

Recently I found for clients of mine (conscientious parents of two little girls), a house ideal for their needs. They would not consider it because of the situation in the Fairfax schools, and bought in San Anselmo. The sellers had put their house on the market for the same reason. It hasn't sold.

Not long ago, old friends who had been transferred from here decided that they had been away long enough, and came back hoping to settle again in Fairfax. They had a choice, in their business, of two areas in the county. After careful investigation of schools, they reluctantly concluded that their two children would fare far better in one of the areas north of San Rafael. They bought in Novato.

Does this make sense for property owners? What does it do to our values?

I have loved and defended Fairfax for the 16 years I have lived here and I should be so happy not to have to go on apologizing for it.

Land Is Factor In Homes Cost

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your Tues (1/24) front page account of Marin Industrial Foundation's "Report on Housing Costs in Marin" was most interesting—particularly in headlined "Land Price Isn't Factor," and the quotation of the foundation's assertion to that effect.

It was refreshing to learn from the article that our supervisors challenged, rather than swallowed, this conclusion. Truly objective consideration must lead to acknowledgement that the price of land is actually the fundamental factor which inflates building costs.

To be sure, there is always a complex multiplicity of causes behind any effect—and the price of Marin housing may very well be influenced to some extent by all of the factors described in the Foundation's report — plus others unmentioned. Yet it is incontrovertible that the price of idle, unimproved land has been advancing at a fantastic pace throughout the Bay Area (and elsewhere), particularly during the past twenty years. The unearned profit taken by the landowner is the home-buyer's most grievous and unjustifiable expense.

The profit on raw land is a speculative windfall rather than an earned recompense. Taxpayers' money in the construction and improvement of roads, water and sewage facilities, police, school, hospital and other public services has generated the increased demand for the land and stimulated the responsive spiral in asking price. And the public investment has been implemented by the investments of private citizens in the construction of homes and businesses adjacent to idle, unimproved parcels (generally in partnership with banks and other financial institutions).

While the "workers" and "capitalists" strive and risk to create a valuable something from a comparative nothing, the speculator in idle land lies doggo, admiring the value which these others are building for him, until eventually he pounces on his opportunity to make a "killing" profit.

The foundation's assertion is incorrect; its refutation is seen all around us.

As a clincher, in the city papers of the same day, report was made of an elaborate construction project in the East Bay in which the owners of the property were quoted as saying "We bought the site 25 years ago and paid only $18,000 for the whole 14 acres."

Pray, what is now the going price of raw land per acre in the Bay Area?

BENNETT CERF

From the Maxims of Herb Stein: "To err is human,, but when the eraser wears out before the pencil, you're overdoing it." "It's the good little girls who keep diaries; the bad little girls don't have the time." "A woman who won't take you for what you are is likely to take you for what you have." "Despite what you may have heard, Alcatraz is still the only pen with a lifetime guarantee."

A guest at an old English manor house woke up his host in the middle of the night. "I just encountered your family ghost upstairs!" he gasped.

The host, not too surprised, chuckled, "Did it give you a start?"

"Frankly," said the guest, "I didn't need one."

An honest young coed tossed her buzzing alarm clock angrily across the bedroom. "confound the speed of light," she muttered to her roommate. "It gets here to early in the morning."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Man Who Covers Supervisors Doesn't Need TV For Entertainment

Many worthy readers of the I-J (all who read the I-J qualify as worthy) seem horrified by chance revelation in this column that the Goulds lack television.

Yet I put the matter most tactfully. I pointed out that we have a jim-dandy improvement called radio. You don't need to look at it.

Marinites will be relieved to hear that we own at least a dozen of these handy gadgets including one the size of a cigarette pack and working up to car radio, bedside radio waker-upper, and even a complicated house installation with loudspeakers here and there including out under the big oak tree.

BUT LET'S BE FRANK about this thing. Most of my radios claim to be hi-fi, but the fact is, you use your two ears to listen to one speaker.

We're "mono," not "stereo." Ah, the same of it all! I suppose one ear is just plain goofing off the whole time.

This I arranged with full knowledge that I am committing blasphemy — what, no stereo?. Just the way I dodge TV. (Several msiguided, but well-intentioned, people have thought of starting funds to buy us a TV.)

As a matter of fact I've flirted with the notion of pleading poverty on this TV. thing. The notion hit me when I read an advertisement—(in a newspaper, which is where ads belong) that "for news of Social Security, watch your television."

Troubel is, said I to myself, I'm still a few days short of getting Social Security. So how do they expect me to have a television?

Frankly, I like things the way they are. I don't want television, and I want "mono," but not "stereo," radio and phonograph.

I'm so wrong headed that I drive a small foreign car with an obsolete "stick-shift" transmission. For half the money I could have bought a big domestic car with automatic transmission.

Give me the simple life even if it costs more.

Simplicity does cost more. Wife Agnes, who used to be in what's elegantly called "the rag business," suggests you price the simple elegant garments. Look at a Rolls-Royce; no fins, mighty little chrome, no fakery.

The simple life is something you also have to fight for. Tax bills on our vacant lot next door rise so fast as to suggest that we can't just pay off Bert Broemmel's hearties much longer—soon it will take a shotgun to keep that ground idle despite the population explosion.

Why do we struggle so for spartan privacy? Mostly, let's confess, just to preserve the ancient indoor sport of reading.

Some years back we learned to read. By dodging TV we've kept the knack. It's possible to read with radio till the commercials get to a certain point, when one should just turn that button.

BUT THE GOULDS are never caught up, on, for instance, Social Security news put on television. We do read all the television columns (more amusing than television itself, we gather) to make sure of what we aren't missing.

We also read how our fellow-connoisseurs of quiet work out their problems. As for instance that Bayside Acres resident who wanted a pony. He had to go to planners for a "use permit" which he got with aid of Fred F. Enemark.

Enemark wrote that he favored letting this guy have a pony. I mean to keep this in mind in case my own campaign for peace and quiet runs into trouble.

ANY DAY NOW it may get around that my radio has only one loud-speaker. Somebody is going to say that since I have two ears I've got to have up-to-date two-speaker stereo sound equipment or none. Listen to me holler for Enemark.

With tears in their eyes, people work on me from time to time to get TV. "It's wonderful entertainment," they implore.

So long as I keep covering the board of supervisors for the I-J my entertainment is well looked after. All the low comedy, grunt-and-groan wrestling, Western melodrama and such that my system can stand. That is final, pals.

Televised Press Conferences Seen As Presidential Tool

WASHINGTON — There is no doubt that Mr. Kennedy has the intention and the talent to use his weekly press conference as a powerful instrument of Presidential leadership.

Since the grim period of the depression, when President Roosevelt employed it so resourcefully to unfold his program during the furious one hundred days of the New Deal, it has been a valuable window on the White House.

With Mr. Kennedy's first use of live television and radio, it is a window which opens into the drawing rooms of millions of American homes.

Several times during his first meeting with reporters he showed this alertness against saying too much. This is a needed protection now that it is impossible for him to pause, strike something from the record and then start again.

He was tempted by one correspondent to welcome Premier Khrushchev to make a visit to Washington should the Soviet leader come to the spring meeting of the U. N. General Assembly. Mr. Kennedy paused only momentarily before saying that he had not been informed that Mr. K. was coming and that he would wait and see.

At another point there was an incentive to attribute too much significance to Moscow's release of the two U. S. fliers who had been wrongly detained after their plane had been wrongly attacked by the Soviets while it was over international waters. He was asked if the freeing of the fliers didn't increase the chances of his meeting with Premier Khrushchev. Instantly he let it be known that, as he saw it, there was "no relationship" between release of the two Americans and summit talks.

THE PRESIDENT showed deftness in dealing with Red China. What did he feel, he was asked, about Sen. Humphrey's proposal to send foodstuffs to the Chinese Communists? He pointedly noted that Red China, despite talk of harvest shortages, is exporting food to Africa and Cuba and has given no indication that it would welcome famine assistance from the U. S. On a humane basis wholly outside the cold war, he would consider helping—if asked.

It is welcome to have Mr. Kennedy speak out in favor of the maximum release of government information, such as the U.S.I.A.'s prestige-poll which he wanted published during the campaign. I hope he will be equally outgiving when such polls reflect the status of U. S. prestige a year from now or three years from now. And when is Mr. Kennedy going to release the Gaither report on the state of our defenses which all the Democrats clamored to have released two years ago?

It is evident that while Mr. Kennedy does not intend to lecture or harangue the public, he intends to use his press conferences to create a sense of national urgency about what he deeply feels needs to be done. He aims to use the press conference to give more people a sense of participation in government.

At Last! Juvenile Delinquency Is On The Way Down In This Country

At last juvenile delinquency is going down. There are many local exceptions, but the national trend is good.

Statisticians always are behind. They've just published the figures for 1959. In that year juvenile delinquency went up 2 per cent, while the juvenile population increased 5 per cent. The net, you see, is a reduction.

I've been checking around the country for the 1960 trend. There'll be a greater drop when the '60 figures are in.

Remember, there are exceptions. Our big cities still have shocking conditions. Many smaller ones do too. No one can say the job of preventing juvenile delinquency is done, but the trend is in the right direction, and that's important.

I've been predictitng this for several years. In 1958 I spoke at a juvenile delinquency conference in Washington. Federal, state and local experts had been called together to see what should be done next. I told them that delinquency rates would go down the years ahead and they laughed at me. Impolite titters were heard all over the auditorium. It was a new experience for me and now I hope they're convinced.

Why the improvement? There are many reasons.

The key one is that our new teen-agers were raised in relatively good homes. Our families were over the worst of the wartime dislocations when they came along. Most of the kids of 12, 13 and 14 got good care during their formative years. There's a cause-and-effect relationship between infant or child neglect, and later teen-age delinquency.

This column today is the first report of its kind. It'll take at least a year for the Washington hotshots to acknowledge the improvement. Wait and see.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it proven that there is a relationship between working mothers of tiny children, and subsequent delinquency by their children?" Mrs. A.D.

(A) Yes. A recent study found that teen-agers whose mothers had worked when they were tiny were between three and four times as apt to be delinquent as comparable teen-agers whose mothers had not worked.

Narcotics Case Ruling Is Made

Oliver, who lives at 1317 Clinton Street, San Rafael, was found unconscious near Phoenix Lake last Aug. 14. Officers found a satchel of marijuana, four peyote plants, and quantities of pills nearby.

A jury convicted him of narcotics possession.

San Geronimo Valley Plan Has Sewage Disposal As Key

By RANDALL GOULD

The earthy subject of sewage might seem at first glance to have scant relation to the preservation of Marin County's natural beauties under subdevelopment.

But studies backing the nearly complete San Geronimo Valley Master Plan have developed direct relationship between the method of sewage disposal and what happens to the land as man moves in on it—relationships including whether hillsides are to be "butchered" and whether lot sizes must be cramped.

Cooperating in this master plan project are groups of citizens already living in the area and concerned for its future, a far-sighted developer, a group of skilled engineers and the Marin County Planning and Health Departments.

One of many unusual features is that all these groups are in harmony on their desires and in agreement on what has been achieved in bringing the proposed master plan within a month of conclusion.

That sewage disposal turned out to be a key point was an accident, but one deemed by the participants of perhaps historic significance.

It started early in 1959 when many people of San Geronimo Valley, a lovely naturally favored green bowl in the drainage areas of San Geronimo and Big Carson Creeks in Central Marin, asked for a master plan to guide development constructively. Authorization of such a plan was granted by the board of supervisors in April of that year.

Virtually every citizen group of the valley was concerned. This led to the formation of a citizen committee with delegates from all these groups. Mrs. J. B. Robinson was president and Mrs. Frederic Manley, secretary.

Monthly meetings have been held for discussion of progress on the plan.

Intimately concerned was the Lagunitas Development Co. headed by Stephen J. McKee of 220 Crescent Road, San Anselmo. McKee, initially owning property south of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard running through the middle of the valley, began buying to the north and became involved in gradual reconstruction of the one-time 7,000-acre Rancho San Geronimo. He now holds about 5,500 acres.

McKee agreed to cooperate in preparation of a master plan through he was not yet ready to develop.

Daniel Coleman and Associates, San Francisco engineers with experience in San Rafael and elsewhere in Marin County, were retained to make a report with special consideration to planning for domestic waste disposal by "methods which will involve the minimum physical alteration of the topography," with population densities at reasonably low level and with protection of the area's water resources.

It was realized that the usual sewer systems would have grave disadvantages on several points. For one thing, gravity slope sewers (lacking pressure, as in water systems) require trenching which scars the countryside to preserve the gravity flow.

Were it not for this, the roads might wind about unobtrusively. But to let the sewage run downhill in pipes buried beneath the roads, they must push relentlessly along, counter to natural plan in many places.

Moreover, sewers would mean spending a million or a million and a half dollars for a plant which has to be paid for by sale of lots. This puts pressure on the developer to cut his property into small lots and sell them fast. Small lots mean more traffic. This compels wider roads—as well as more schools and other things costing money and taking space.

The Coleman experts sought to reverse all this. "Why sewers at all?" they asked.

Individual residence sewage disposal installations, such as the conventional septic tank and leaching fields, have been widely used throughout Marin County. But questions were raised by planning consultants regarding the feasibility of such installations for projects as extensive as this.

The terrain is mostly rough in this beautiful natural bowl. There are rock outcroppings, suggesting that in some areas the disposal fields might have to be larger than the minimum required by health department rules. There was also the question of protection afforded by such a plan to the quality of natural ground and surface waters.

Coleman retained Water Resources Engineers, Inc., of Berkeley, a firm specializing in such inquiry and made up of several University of California professors, to make a study of the geology of the whole San Geronimo Valley.

The study was completed last October. Water resources Engineers found that "individual sewage disposal systems are feasible, provided they are constructed and maintained in accordance with (our) recommendations."

The study was done in close cooperation with William L. Desmond, sanitation director for the Marin County Health Department, and his staff. Ed Gardner of the Marin Municipal Water District and Fred Vaughn of Marin Sewer Service also provided information.

An important part of the work was a checkup on the history of septic tank failures in the area. Most were attributed to too-small lots or improper types of tank.

On topographic and geologic considerations, it was found, there should be no lots of less than half-acre size, and half-acre to acre lots would be allowed only in level parts of the valley. The lot sizes would range to 10-15 acres where there is drainage into Kent Lake, also protected by a "green strip."

Planning Director Mary Summers points out that one attractive feature of the over-all plan is that instead of putting typical "tract development" in the flatland of the valley bottom, an 18-hole golf course is recommended there, providing community open space. This, moreover, fits into sanitation aspects of the plan by providing a large aeriation area in case of drainage from the higher points.

Another interesting point is provision for the projected east-west route to link Olema near the West Marin coast with some eastern point in the San Rafael-San Quentin vicinity. Envisaging eventual abandonment of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard as the main valley artery, the plan provides for possible route skirting the foothills to the north.

Moreover it is planned that between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and the northern foothills, there will be multiple dwellings, with concentrated cluster housing helping to preserve surrounding green areas.

A "vacation area" is envisaged, including such things as motels, stables and other holiday facilities attractive to tourists, adjoining the golf course.

Hiking trails are to lead off into the upland areas readily accessible from all residential sections. There will be provisions for elementary schools plus a high school and other customary community needs.

With completion of the proposed plan within about a month there will be in turn submission for approval by the citizen committee, then the planning commission and finally the board of supervisors, the whole process probably ending by summer.

"This is an example," comments Mrs. Summers, "of how, through expensive careful study, one developer has probably found a way of developing Marin County valleys and hillsides without destroying, but on the contrary retaining, the characteristics for which Marin is beloved by us all."

Legislators See Need For New Blue-Sky Law

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Promoters, it was said, were bilking farmers in the booming days of the early 1900s by selling them building lots in the clear blue sky.

Out of an investigation and report in Kansas came the colorfully named "Blue Sky Laws" designed to protect unsophisticated investors from phony securities.

California, like most western and midwestern states, was quick to follow Kansas' lead and enacted laws regulating the issuance of corporate securities.

That was in 1915.

The Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary-Civil, reporting on a two-year study of California's Blue Sky Law, traced the development of corporate securities regulation.

The state shunned the so-called disclosure philosophy, which requires only that the investor be fully and truthfully informed about the venture he is investing in.

One federal official has pointed out a weakness in that philosophy, however:

"You can lead an investor to a prospectus, but you can't make him think."

California, adopting the other philosophy of strict regulation in what has been called one of the most comprehensive Blue Sky Laws, tried to make investors think—and even do some thinking for them.

The commissioner of corporations was given broad powers to license and regulate securities.

The commissioner in 1919 listed some schemes:

"Wave motors that solved the problems of power conservation — on paper only; gold machines that swallowed gold instead of yielding it — the countless gold-brick promotions of febrile imagination, especially indigenous to the southern part of the state, have moved on, upwept and unsung, save for the melancholy chorus of their victims."

Times and schemes have changed, however, and the law hasn't. The Assembly committee has recommended replacing the Blue Sky law with an up-to-date, specific law.

Its more imposing but less colorful name: The Uniform Securities Act.
